PHONE UNION TO CONSIDER NEW PROPOSAL

Long Distance Group's Policy Committee To Weigh Proposition.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10—Long ... telephone workers agreed ... to submit a proposition for ... their end of the nation-... strike to the national union ... committee directing the ... -day-old walkout.

Acceptance could lead to a general break in the deadlocked negotiations to end the communications snarl-up.

A threatened cross-country ... strike was called off ... when 25 minutes to go last ... when the long lines union reached an agreement with the ... Telephone and Telegraph company which set the ... for a general settlement.

... J. Moran, president of the ... member long lines workers ... organization, told reporters:

The union's members will not ... to work until a settlement ... been reached between all ... telephone unions in the National Federation of Telephone Workers and their respective companies.

Moran explained that the A. T. and T.'s "final proposals" for settling the long lines dispute after ... days of government-prodded negotiations here would be put ... before his union's nine-man executive board and then the NFTW policy committee. The policy committee scheduled a meeting at 11 a. m.

Moran told newsmen the proposals formed a "basis for settlement" of the long lines part of the nationwide strike, but hastened to add "we have reached no agreement of any kind."

A similar statement came from G. S. Dring, assistant vice president of the A. T. and T. long lines department, who said:

"Up to date no agreement has been reached."

Neither the union nor the tired-eyed government conciliators who nursed the long lines negotiations through day and night sessions gave out details of the accord announced at 11:30 p. m. last night.

Ohio Phone Strikers Watch Parley Results

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 10—Ohio's 15,000 striking telephone workers today assumed an attitude of watchful waiting after an announcement in Washington last night that long distance workers and the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. had agreed on a basis for settlement of their part of the nationwide strike.

Any basic agreement would have to be submitted to the policy committee of the National Federation of Telephone Workers for approval before negotiations on a local basis could begin.

The Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers is one of the striking affiliates of the national federation.

HOMING PIGEONS GIVE PHONE STRIKE "THE BIRD." In the telephone strike crisis, Arthur Wheatley of Rockaway Valley, N. J., finds that a bird in the hand is worth 10 long distance calls that can't be made. President of the International American Homing Pigeon Fanciers society, Wheatley (above, left), a New York sales executive, leaves his home taking some of his birds with him. Intending to let the little woman know that he wants the bathroom painted blue, Wheatley (above, right) writes a note and sends it by pigeon. Below, Mrs. Wheatley gets the message. Former Marion Man Victim of Stabbing

Donald Vance, former Marion man now living in Berea, was stabbed last night by an unknown assailant, relatives here were informed. He is in serious condition at Berea Community hospital but is expected to recover.

According to accounts of the attack given by Berea police, Mr. Vance got off a bus near his home with his wife and two boys. Another passenger accused him of jostling, followed him down the street and suddenly stabbed him in the neck and back, then ran away.

Berea police are searching for the assailant, who is not believed to be a Berea man. Marion relatives of Mr. Vance left for Berea today.

1,500 Pupils To Take Part In School Vocational Session

Some 1,500 students from the public and parochial schools will participate in the annual vocational guidance conference which will get under way with a general assembly at 8:45 o'clock Friday morning in the Palace theater. Following the program they will attend group sessions scheduled at Harding High and Central Junior High schools for conferences and discussions on vocations. Approximately 60 men and women representing industry, professions, agriculture, crafts and various other vocations will be the conference speakers. Faculty members will serve as room sponsors.

This year schedules have been arranged to permit students to attend two conferences. The first is scheduled to open at 9:45 and the second at 10:50 a. m. At noon the faculty members, and speakers will meet for luncheon at Hotel Harding for an appraisal of the morning sessions.

Speaker for the opening conference will be Paul Barrett, personnel director of the Ohio Oil Co. of Findlay. The program will open with the singing of the National Anthem directed by L. G. Jones, supervisor of music in the public schools with Alan Cleveland as the accompanist. The pledge of allegiance will be led by Mario Nolfi, president of Harding High school student council. The invocation will be Rev. R. W. Faulkner, president of the Marion County Ministerial association.

NEWARK POLICEMEN FACE MURDER COUNT

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., April 10—Warrants charging first degree murder in the death Monday night of 38-year-old Frank Merryman, father of four children, were to be served today upon two Newark policemen, Carl Koblens, 54, and Bryan Woolard, 48.

The patrolmen, named in affidavits signed by Mrs. Imogene Merryman, 38, the dead man's widow, thus far have been allowed by Chief Gail Christman to remain on regular duty.

The affidavits were given to Christman by Prosecutor Brandt S. Harvey but the chief did not serve them yesterday. At the police station it was reported Koblens and Woolard probably would be advised officially of Mrs. Merryman's action and placed at least in technical custody when they reported for duty today.

Mrs. Merryman charged that the two officers beat her husband twice before he died. She said he was beaten after he had been ejected from a Newark dance hall and removed to the city jail.

Merryman was dead upon arrival Monday night at the City hospital and Coroner G. W. Sapp yesterday reported the man's death resulted from a "sub-arachnoid hemorrhage of the brain, probably traumatic in origin," or, from blows about the head.

MARION DELEGATION OPPOSES TAX BILLS

C. of C. Sends Group to Hearing in Legislature.

A group of seven Marion representatives appeared before state house and senate committee hearings in Columbus yesterday in protest against the Marshall bills, proposed legislation which would give up to five per cent on consumers utility bills.

John Dowler, member of the Chamber of Commerce taxation committee, spoke in opposition to the Marshall bills before the senate taxation committee. He told the senators he felt the present tax structure was adequate and no additional taxes were needed and suggested that the Marshall bills, if passed, would open up other avenue for municipalities to levy taxes against consumers.

The Marion delegates were among 250 business men and women from throughout the state, appearing in the legislature yesterday in protest to the proposed tax measures. One section of the Marion delegation attended senate hearings and the other house hearings on the measure.

Other members of the Marion group included Harold Carroll, chairman of the Marion Retail Board of Managers; Louis E. Deibel, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, L. Otis Porter, manager of the Marion Water Co.; Miss Ruth Kleinmaier of the Ohio Public Service Co., Mrs. Robert Penson and Carl Knirk.

Truman Warns Pay Hikes May Be Justified

Tells Newsmen Wage Boosts in Order if Prices Stay High.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10—President Truman said today that unless prices come down wage increases will be justified.

The President told a news conference the justice department is studying the question of whether manufacturing concerns can combine to lower prices without running afoul of the anti-trust laws.

Under one supreme court decision, Mr. Truman said, it would be unlawful to combine to cut prices just as it would be to group together to raise them.

The President said this survey is being conducted as one means of getting prices down since the government's power over prices ended last year and it would be impractical to reinstitute price controls.

Mr. Truman added that he does not believe the people want such controls.

Great Profits Noted

Continuing, the President said: Business made very great profits in 1946 and in the first quarter of 1947. Business wants to be free of price controls and now that they are free it is up to business to do something.

The responsibility is squarely on business.

After Mr. Truman mentioned business profits, a reporter asked whether wage increases will be justified if prices are not reduced.

Replying in the affirmative the President said everybody, including labor and management, ought to have a fair deal on this.

The President said he feels there is no necessity for a recession.

He plans no message to congress on the situation, Mr. Truman said. Then he added with a smile that congress is getting plenty on this from the general public.

Discusses Prices Half Hour

The President discussed the price situation for nearly a half hour. Asked about his economic survey yesterday with his cabinet and economic advisers, Mr. Truman explained:

The meeting was a regular quarterly review which had been postponed from last week. It was not a special meeting.

The study of prices will continue, Mr. Truman added.

When informed that many companies are afraid of violating the anti-trust laws if they combine to cut prices, the President replied that the department of justice could prosecute under the law, but if consulted about it there would be no prosecution.

He said he has telegrams from about half a dozen companies announcing price reductions and he is much gratified.

Recalls Former Prediction

The President, recalling repeal of price control last June 30, said an impossible control bill was passed July 5. Mr. Truman said that it failed to work as he predicted in his veto of the original measure.

Asked if he has instructed the department of justice to do anything, he replied the matter is under discussion and he will answer that at a later date.

It is up to the legal boys to determine, Mr. Truman said, whether group reductions in prices are lawful.

The President said he does not favor a buyer strike to cut prices and added that would not help the situation at all.

Such a move would stop the economic machinery from working and throw a monkey wrench into that machinery, Mr. Truman explained, saying such strikes last year did not help anybody.

He expressed the hope that strikes this year won't have the same effect as last year.

Cook of Bucyrus Sworn In on Federal Post

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10—H. Earl Cook, Bucyrus, O., was sworn in today as the Republican member of the three-man board of the federal deposit insurance corporation.

The oath was administered by Supreme Court Justice Harold Burton, also of Ohio.

Present for the ceremony was Senator Bricker (R-Ohio), who, when governor of Ohio, appointed Cook state superintendent of banks. Cook held that position until he received the federal appointment.

JUDGE DELAYS REMITTING OF MINERS' FINE

Postpones 2 Weeks Judgment on $2,800,000 in Abeyance; Krug Blasts Lewis.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10—Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough today postponed for two weeks a decision on whether to refund to the United Mine Workers $2,800,000 of the $3,500,000 fine he imposed on the union for contempt.

In doing so, the judge said "I regret exceedingly that there hasn't been good faith" on the part of the union and its president, John L. Lewis, in complying with a supreme court mandate.

The supreme court had ordered the $2,800,000 refund providing Lewis cancelled a notice terminating the UMW contract with the government. Lewis has done that.

Goldsborough said he thought the matter of returning the $2,800,000 should be put off until July 1, the date on which the soft coal mines will be back in private possession.

But he granted a government request for the two week delay with this comment:

"This court doesn't see that good faith can be established in two weeks."

UMW lawyers had asked for the refund immediately, contending that Lewis and the UMW had complied with court orders. The government, however, said it wanted time to determine whether there had been compliance in view of the current "safety shutdown" in some mines.

Krug Says Miners Neglected Safety

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10—Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug declared today that the record of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers on safety in the coal pits is one of "almost unbroken neglect."

He told a senate public lands subcommittee the union had failed to take advantage of the creation of mine safety committees under the Krug-Lewis coal contract.

The senate group is investigating the Centralia, Ill., mine explosion last month which took 111 lives.

Strikes Back at Lewis

The interior department chief, who is boss of the government-seized pits, struck back at charges by the UMW president that Krug "murdered" the Centralia mine victims. He said:

"One would have expected vigorous and effective action on the part of the union officials to achieve real mine safety through this new opportunity for union participation.

"Instead we find an almost unbroken record of neglect, without any concerted action on the part of these union officials to put their

Connally Tells Senate Russian Expansion Must Be Stopped

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10—Senator Tom Connally (D-Tex) told the senate today that Russian expansion must be stopped short of Greece and Turkey because the Soviets are aiming for "world dominion."

The Texas senator, top Democratic member of the foreign relations committee, opened the senate's third day of debate on President Truman's proposal to extend $400,000,000 in financial and limited military aid to the two countries with a blunt declaration that Russia wants to "control the destiny of Europe."

"Soviet Russia, by her system of spreading creeping paralysis among smaller and weaker nations, hopes to bring about world dominion and to control the destiny of Europe," Connally said in a prepared address. "She hungers for 'all the land that joins me.'"

Freedoms Believed Vital

The former chairman of the foreign relations committee said it is his view that the United States must be frank with Russia and must demand frankness in return. He added:

"There is no denial that one of the cardinal purposes of this bill is to enable Greece and Turkey to resist encroachments of Soviet Russia and her satellite states."

"Russia is not unaware of that purpose. We should make that purpose clear. We should demand of Russia that she abandon the methods by which she subjugated the satellite states. We should make it plain that as a nation and people, we shall resist this effort to destroy the independence or integrity of free peoples."

Connally, whose statements contrasted with the way most administration officials avoided any direct reference to Russia's aims, laid down a four point program under which he said Russia

Sharp Earthquake Rocks Southern California Area

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, April 10—A sharp earthquake, subsiding into a long, rolling tremor lasting almost a minute, rocked most of southern California at 7:59 a. m. (PST) (10:59 a. m. Marion time) today, but there were no immediate reports of loss of life or serious damage.

Seismologists at California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, said the quake's length indicated it was deep-seated and probably severe in some locality.

But a quick check of key points from Santa Barbara to the Imperial valley city of El Centro, disclosed no severe loss.

A bank window was broken in Glendale and there were reports of minor damage in the artist's colony of Laguna Beach.

It was felt only lightly in Santa Barbara to the north, and San Bernardino, to the east. El Centro said it was not recorded there. A Cal Tech source earlier had said it might have been centered in that section hit periodically by moderately severe quakes.

The shock also went unnoticed in the Owens valley, where Los Angeles' water supply was disrupted by the last severe California quake, March 15, 1946.

Occupants of Phoenix, Ariz., office buildings and hotels reported they felt a slight swaying.

Wittred Still in Coma; Six Months in Hospital

Six months ago yesterday, William Ernest Wittred entered City hospital after he was overcome by gas fumes in his trailer home on a farm east of Marion. His condition today was reported as unchanged by hospital attendants and the attending physician.

A number of similar cases have been reported throughout the state, however, none were known to have survived. According to attendants, he has never responded to any treatment given him. Early in the case, a specialist from Columbus examined Wittred and confirmed a diagnosis of Marion physicians that a layer of the brain has been damaged by the gas, which causes him to remain in a coma. He is still "holding his own."

U.S. ASKS DELAY IN UN AID DISCUSSIONS

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 10—The United States demanded today that the security council defer action on a Soviet proposal which would place American aid to Greece under United Nations supervision.

Warren R. Austin, head of the U. S. delegation, in a long reply to Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko's attack on the Truman program, declared the council should take no action on the Soviet proposal until after congress had approved the administration plan and agreements had been reached between the United States and Greece and Turkey.

"We would then be in a position to judge calmly and objectively and in the spirit of unanimity which I hope will prevail in this council, the merits of the Soviet proposal," he said.

While opposing action on the Soviet resolution, Austin pressed for immediate approval of his own proposal that the U. N. Balkan investigating commission leave representatives to watch over the troubled situation in northern Greece until the council had acted on the commission's forthcoming report.

Explosion Kills Nine In Anthracite Mine

By The Associated Press

EXETER, Pa., April 10—Nine men were killed and nine others injured today in an anthracite mine explosion 350 feet underground.

Only two victims were found soon after the early morning blast ripped through the Knox Coal Co. operation. Rescue workers digging through the debris several hours later found additional bodies.

LABOR BILL REACHES HOUSE

Measure To Curb Strikes, Unions at Voting Stage in Congress.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10—A stiff new bill to put the brakes on strikes and unions reached the voting stage in the house labor committee today.

Traces of opposition to it still smouldered among some Republican members. Several Democrats, getting their first look at the terms, were ready to swing on it with all their power.

The bill, with a couple of changes, got the approval yesterday of Republican leaders and the policy-shaping G.O.P. steering committee.

One change would provide a period of mediation and arbitration for settling strikes, such as the telephone row, which the bill defines as affecting the national health, welfare and safety. The other would remove a proposed ban on the union shop if both management and labor want one.

Forbids Closed Shop

The bill still would forbid the closed shop, under which an employer may hire only union members. Under the union shop, non-union men may be hired, but they must join the union soon after going on the payroll.

Rep. Landis (R-Ind), next in rank to the chairman on the labor committee, told a reporter:

"It still would take away many things unions consider fundamental. Industry-wide collective bargaining, for instance.

"I hope the committee puts in some kind of language so that I can go along with the bill."

He said, too, the check-off method, by which an employer collects dues for a union by tak-

CONCILIATOR ENTERS WAGE TALKS HERE

Seeks Settlement in McMillen Feed Negotiations.

A federal conciliator met with officials of the McMillen Feed Mills Inc. of Ohio and representatives of the McMillen Feed Unit of Local 750, UAW (CIO) yesterday in an effort to bring about a contract settlement between the union and the management.

He was H. J. Montoney of Columbus, representative of the U. S. conciliation service, department of labor. He held separate hearings with company and union officials, preliminary to future negotiations. A company official said the management had nothing to report at present, but added negotiations were scheduled to continue next week.

Edward Duck, international representative of the UAW and spokesman for the union, said the negotiations followed a strike vote taken by the union March 18 when union members by secret ballot voted to file a 30 day strike notice. He said the vote carried by 97 per cent and the 30 day period will expire April 20.

According to the union spokesman, there are 82 employes at McMillen, all of whom are members of the union. He reported a former contract with the company expired March 12, and he outlined

100-MILE PATH IN OKLAHOMA, TEXAS BLITZED

Wide Swath Cut Across Rich Wheat and Cattle Country.

By The Associated Press

WOODWARD, Okla., April 10—A devastating tornado swept across a 100-mile path of the rich wheat and cattle country today killing an estimated 152 persons, injuring more than 1,000 and inflicting property damage running into the millions.

The Texas state highway patrol quoting a Red Cross estimate, reported at least 152 were believed dead with the probability more bodies were buried in the rubble.

Hardest hit was Woodward, Okla., where 100 were estimated to be dead, with between 800 and 1,000 injured. Approximately 100 blocks of buildings were destroyed in this city of 5,500 population.

Other estimates included Shattuck, Okla., 20 dead, Higgins, Tex., 21, and Glazier, Tex., 8. Fatller, two were reported dead at Gage, Okla., which would bring the total to 154.

The general course of the storm was northeastward from White Deer, Tex., 50 miles from Amarillo, then through Glazier, population 200, Higgins, population 750, Woodward, and Gage, a community of 800 persons.

Kansas Hospitals Prepared

Many of the injured were being taken to nearby towns, and hospitals as far away as Wichita, Kas., were preparing beds for possible patients.

Disaster crews were rushed to the stricken areas, and peace officers and hastily formed vigilante crews guarded against looting after early reports of vandalism.

Fires which followed the tornado were brought under control early today. Firemen were aided by torrential rains accompanying the southwest's most disastrous storm of the year.

Rescue workers today probed rubble and debris for bodies, and officials said they believed the toll might be higher than now estimated.

Southwestern Pelephone Workers union officials in Washington today offered to send striking operators and repair crews back to their jobs in the stricken area to handle emergency phone calls and repair work.

Woodward Hit Hardest

Woodward, Okla., was hardest hit. Earlier estimates placed the toll at 72, but the Red Cross said today it had reached 100 dead.

Jewell L. Wilson, night supervisor at the Woodward Memorial hospital, said the injured might run as high as 800. Mortuaries were lighted by candles.

Approximately a third of Woodward (population 5,500) was flattened by the storm. Fire followed the tornado, but was quickly extinguished by firemen and by the heavy rain. Medical corpsmen from Tinker field near Oklahoma City aided in treating the injured, and other military units helped with relief work.

Woodward is in the heart of the Oklahoma cattle country.

Power, Light Fail

Power and lights failed, and emergency generators were used at hospital and dressing stations. The Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company plant was leveled and Irwin Walker, 67, veteran night engineer at the plant, was killed as he started to work.

Only one telephone line remained in operation, but by daybreak another circuit was established. Striking telephone workers volunteered to return to their switchboards during the emergency.

Streets were blocked by debris and cars were rolled into knots as if they were pieces of tinfoil, twisted between huge fingers.

Survivors wandered the streets in a daze, still unable to realize what had happened.

The estimate of dead at Higgins, Tex., varied between 24 and 30. The Red Cross today estimated 24 for the Texas panhandle town but Howard Boxwell, a mortician, said the total might reach 30. About 150 were believed injured. The town has a population of 750. It was leveled except for the telephone exchange, the bank and school building, all of brick. The business district was destroyed by fire, brought under control early today.

All traffic was blocked by rubble in the streets, and only ambulances were permitted into the area.

The state sent a bulldozer to clear the debris and to haul out wrecked cars. A five-room house was blown into the middle of the highway, missing [illegible] Okla., and [illegible] in a wheat field. [illegible] buried [illegible]

Everybody Wrong But Soviets on UN, U. S. Official Says

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, O., April 10—Joseph E. Johnson of the state department said today "apparently everybody is out of step but the Russians" in efforts to provide armed forces for the United Nations.

Johnson, chief of the state department's division of international security affairs, told the Ohio university United Nations committee the Soviet representatives delayed "for many months" the work of the UN military staff committee.

That group is charged with working out agreements to make available military contingents for use of the security council.

"The military staff committee has been working on this matter for more than a year, but has little to show for its efforts," Johnson said in his prepared address.

"Four of the five great powers represented on the committee have desired to push ahead rapidly and appear to be in general accord on formulation of the required agreements. But apparently everybody is out of step but the Russians."

Johnson opened his address with an explanation of President Truman's proposal to extend $400,000,000 in direct financial and limited military assistance to Greece and Turkey to stem the inroads of Communism.

Without mentioning Russia in this connection, the speaker noted that one of the principal questions has been why the United States should go as far afield as the eastern Mediterranean in search of security.

"The answer, in essence," Johnson asserted, "is that insecurity anywhere is a threat to security everywhere."

Pension Society Hears Rev. N. O. Stucky

Rev. N. O. Stucky, an evangelist of 141 Reed avenue, was guest speaker when the Old Age Pension society of Marion county met Friday in the Eagles hall. He took his text from the 15th verse of Second Peter and also from the fourth chapter of First Peter.

He explained that everyone wants to go to heaven, but many are unwilling to meet the conditions and requirements. Rev. Stucky stated that he would rather go to heaven from the poor house than to go from a rich man's mansion. He also said that if you sin, you shall go to judgment in shame and everlasting contempt, but if you are righteous, you will be fashioned after Him.

Prayer by L. D. Carwile, the Lord's Prayer by the group and the salute to the flag opened the meeting. The choir sang "Loyalty to Christ," followed by a duet, "Precious Memories," by William E. Sergent and Christian Ruth, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Eva Parish. Reports were given and the group sang "The Old Rugged Cross." Mrs. Frances Drollinger of 131 Scioto street, who was celebrating her 86th birthday anniversary that day, was honored by the group. Group singing of "Is My Name Written There" and prayer by Rev. Stucky closed the meeting.

"Yarnin'" Chief Industry of North Carolina

BY HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

RALEIGH, N. C., April 10—Carolina's spin much of the world's cotton yarn.

They are perhaps even better at spinning out another kind of yarn that doesn't come on spools—the kind of homegrown yarn you would expect to flourish in America's most old world state. The Pilgrim Fathers are still remembered as soothing comforters.

"Yarnin'"—the spinning of strange and wonderful tales—is still a chief North Carolina spare-time industry from the sea marshes of Ocracoke island to the rocky summit of Grandfather mountain, "oldest peak in the world."

Such as the story of the phenominal cow that artfully swished its fly-covered tail across the brook and flipped out sucker fish as fast as they rose to the bait. Did more to earn her keep than half a dozen Wisconsin milk downs.

Hal Boyle

Blue-Eyed Snake

Ever hear of the lady who hatched a snake egg in her stomach? Must have swallowed it in a dipperful of well water. Didn't "set" well. When the doctor operated darned if he didn't find a little live water snake. Some say it had blue eyes—but that's stretching a good yarn thin.

Or the true tale of the forest ranger who dropped his axe to lug in two bear cubs. When mama bear grabbed him, the ranger barehanded choked the 280-pound she-bear unconscious, tied her up. Came on into town with the whole family.

The trouble with the Tarheel folk is they outdo in real life the best yarns spun by old sailors and backwoodsmen for the Yankee tourists.

Or so says Bill Sharpe of the state development department, a walking encyclopedia Carolina on Tarheel happenings. Bill swore with his right hand on a road map of North Carolina—the good book wasn't handy—that this one really happened:

An old farmer developed internal trouble and the doctor opined he'd have to go to the city and be operated on.

"Never Came Back"

The melancholy man climbed aboard a train and as it puffed off his wife and children were left knuckling their eyes and wailing: "Poor Pappy's gone to the city to be cut on. He'll never come back, for sure."

That's the way the old man feared it would happen. But he swam out of the ether in good shape and the next morning was eating his grits as usual. Grateful at his recovery, the ailing man sat up in bed and ordered a pump organ sent to his family.

When the big box was taken off at the station, however, the weeping relatives said:

"It's Pappy."

So they took the box to the cemetery, covered it with flowers and lowered it after a stirring eulogy on the old farmer's merits.

When he left the hospital several days later and limped home to his front door his "widow" promptly fainted. She thought the old man had "clumb out from the box."

The tale has a happy ending.

They dug up the pump organ and it held a place of honor in the parlor for many merry years.

Says Bill.

59 New Cars Sold Here in Two Weeks

New automobile and truck sales in Marion county during the last two-week period totaled 59, according to a report today from Calvin Oborn, Marion county clerk of courts. Of the vehicles sold 50 were cars and nine were trucks. During the previous two-week period 53 new cars and 14 new trucks were sold.

K. OF C. HEARS REPORT ON SCOUT HONOR COURT

Event to be Held in Moira Hall April 17.

Plans for a court of honor at which awards will be presented to scouts of Troop No. 50, Boy Scouts, who have won advancement during the year, were announced by Walter Kraft, scoutmaster, at a meeting of Marion Council No. 671, Knights of Columbus, Tuesday night. The troop is sponsored by the council.

The court of honor will be held at 7:30 p. m. on Thursday, April 17, in Moira hall, and at this time also mothers of the honored scouts will be honored. The meeting will be attended by representatives of Harding Area, and the public as well as members of the parish are invited to attend. Charles Gallaher, grand knight, named the following committee to represent the council for the occasion: Edward McAndrew, James Walsh, Joseph Dunn and Henry Krigbaum.

Plans were made for past grand knights meeting on April 22 when the offices will be held by past officers. Dr. W. A. Dennis will serve as grand knight, assisted by William McAndrew, lecturer. Henry Krigbaum, president of the Holy Name society, announced that the society will attend the 7:30 o'clock mass Sunday and receive Holy Communion. The members will offer their communion as a spiritual bouquet to their pastor, Rev. Willia J. Spickerman, as a part of a statewide offering being made by the Holy Name society.

Granges Lay Plans To Confer Pomona Degree

Plans were made for conferring the Pomona degree by the officers in June at a meeting of Pomona Grange Saturday with members of Martel grange as hosts. A class of 23 candidates was obligated and there was a program in charge of Mrs. Clyde Logan of Martel grange and Eugene Slagle, lecturer of United Grange. E. A. Williams, legislative chairman, gave a report on legislation of interest to Grangers.

The program included readings by Kathryn McKinstry, Mrs. Effie Neff and Mrs. Emily Slagle, a skit by Mr. and Mrs. Jay Hedding, piano duet by Shirley and Lois Pangborn, tableau, "The Old Rugged Cross," with music by the Junior choir, vocal solos by Miss Peggy Cleary, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Nate Shelton, trumpet solos by Harold Trout, accompanied by Mrs. Shelton and guitar duets by Dorothy and Joan Roush. Mrs. Charles Brady, lecturer, gave a report of the lecturers' short course held at Columbus in March. Refreshments were served during a social hour.

A meeting May 3, will be at 8:30 o'clock in the evening with Grand Prairie Grange members as hosts.

The average temperature of the Amazon valley in Brazil is 80 degrees Fahrenheit.

Economists Expect Business Set-Back by Middle of Year

(Following is the second of three articles summarizing a survey by The Associated Press of business conditions and prospects in the United States.)

* * *

By The Associated Press

Most economists who talk on the subject expect that the current business boom in the United States will have a set-back by mid-year.

The period to follow can be a healthful readjustment, a recession or a depression. A recession could be mild or severe, brief or prolonged.

With prospects good for at least three months of the present boom, as indicated in the first article of this series, few economists are discussing a depression as such.

Some say no recession is necessary if a direct attack on high prices is made now. The present high price level is one of the chief concerns of all economists.

Truman Asks Cooperation

President Truman has called on industry to cooperate in reducing prices, saying he hoped it would not go "whole hog for profits." Treasury Secretary Snyder told a news conference recently that "prices are out of line" and that he was "not too optimistic" about them. He said that labor must not make over-demands or they will force prices up."

The President's economic advisory council, headed by Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, is working especially hard on the price situation, which it regards as serious, and the problem has been passed on to the cabinet which is giving it special attention.

Many retailers are calling for lower prices. Jack I. Straus, president of Macy's in New York, the world's largest department store, said last week that prosperity and full employment could not be maintained at present price levels, and that "unless prices are lowered we believe that a business recession is probable."

Business leaders in general are more optimistic than the economists. F. D. Newbury, vice president of Westinghouse Electric, says 1947 will continue to be a big year in business and that we may expect only "a mild recession in 1948, but no serious or prolonged depression before the late 1950's."

Lewis Senelbach, chief economist of Standard and Poor's Corporation, a leading statistical, research and advisory firm says the second quarter of 1947 is likely to be a boom period like the first quarter, but also is likely to be remembered "as the beginning of the most widely-advertised recession on record." Retail sales and building contracts awarded "are among the principal barometers to watch for signs that the trend is turning downward," and "there are already tentative indications in both that excessively high prices are to exert their normal depressing influence on effective demand."

Professor Malcolm P. McNair, Harvard Business school, says "the year 1947 is increasingly beginning to resemble the year 1929. An increasing number of signs indicate that the economy is rounding a corner and that a period of readjustment is likely to get under way in the next three months. The readjustment in 1947 may not be particularly obvious to the public eye until the third and fourth quarters of the year.

"There are four principal reasons for expecting readjustment: (1) The present rate of inventory accumulation shows that civilian pipelines are rapidly being filled up. (2) A correction is in prospect between consumer over-spending on soft goods and under-spending on hard goods. (3) A point has been reached in the inflation where numerous groups of prices and incomes are out of line; hence some prices must be lowered before a solid foundation can be established for future growth. (4) Consumer psychology is winging away from "scarcity" and "panic" buying.

"The readjustment is not likely to be so sweeping as in 1921 because prices of manufactured goods have not risen nearly so high as the prices of agricultural products. Hence a shaking-down and evening-up process seems more likely than a general price deflation."

* * *

(A spot survey highlighting business conditions across the country will be presented in the third and last article of this series tomorrow.)

Martel Grange Presents Play at United Meeting

Following business of United Grange Tuesday night at the Grange hall, a reception was held for new members and a program was presented. Clay Smith introduced the new members and welcomed them into the Grange and Eugene Slagle was in charge of the program which included music and a play presented by members of the Martel Grange. Music was by Eugene and Lester Poos, saxophone duet, Miss Peggy Clary, solo, accompanied by Mrs. Helen Shelton; Miss Hazel Shuey, guitar solo; and a reading won by Mrs. Eugene Slagle. Taking part in the play were Ivan Downs, Everett Douce, Homer Kile, James Huntsman, Merle Shumaker, George Stevens, Melvin Sharrock, and Cover Pinehart, directed by Mr and Mrs. Jay Hedding. The social committee was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howser and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lusch. The charter was draped as a memorial for C. N. Kline, former member, who died recently. At the next meeting, the Juvenile Grange will present a program.

Mansfield Firm Garage Destroyed by Blaze

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., April 10—The maintenance garage of the Empire Steel Corp. burned to the ground yesterday with a loss estimated by company officials at $15,000.

Mansfield firemen who fought the blaze three hours said the fire began when a station wagon fell off a jack, puncturing its gas tank. The auto fuel flowed into a nearby heating stove, the firemen explained.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

"Big John" Lewis Proves He's Hard Man To Keep in Shadow

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, April 10—The [illegible] shining on John L. Lewis [illegible]. He turned it on, all by himself.

It's a comeback for Big John. Just a month ago the supreme court [illegible] him into the shadows [illegible] that was enough to make [illegible] bones [illegible].

James Marlow

It was the most [illegible] defeat Big John had ever suffered. This is how it happened:

Last fall he [illegible] called a coal [illegible] strictly [illegible]. But it was one [illegible] the government didn't back [illegible].

Big John backed down. He called off the strike when a federal judge fined him and his miners $3,516,000.

Let Out Blast

But he didn't say "thank you." He let out a bleat about his miners quitting work again April 1.

It sounded a little like "He who fights and runs away, will live etc."

The supreme court got his case and in March reduced his fine a bit but still socked him and his union $710,000.

But the court did something else. The court told him to cut out that stuff about the miners quitting work April 1.

That was a killer. It must have stuck in Big John's pride like a hot wire.

He told his miners not to quit April 1.

April 1 drew near and then—111 miners were killed in a mine explosion at Centralia, Ill.

"Murdered by Government"

Big John solemnly announced those 111 miners had been murdered by government failure to make the mines safe.

And, without changing expression, he told his miners to go in "mourning" for a week by quitting work April 1.

So there was Big John—whom the supreme court had warned against a walkout April 1—telling his miners to walk out April 1.

Could he get away with it? Sure. Waving his contract with the government to mine coal, Big John said: Now, it says here . . . .

Positively. There was gimmick in the contract. It said the miners could quit work any time to go in mourning.

Big John was using the government contract to do the very thing the government had told him not to do: quit work April 1.

That was only the start of Big John's return to the sun-bright place up front in the headlines.

With this stroke, he called national attention to what Lewis termed the wretched, unsafe condition of the mines.

Invited to Testify

More than that. Senate and house committees called him at once to come up before them and talk about mine safety.

He did that. You may have read that he was more than a match for the senate and house members. He was, all of that.

With his big eyebrows, big gestures, and big, snarling voice, he was more than able to swat down any congressman who buzzed too close.

It was an amazing show of one man dominating a group, even though Big John performed like a man who had watched too many tragedians in a tanktown.

When he finished, the congressmen started talking of passing a law that really would mean mine safety.

Punished as Criminals

And now Senator Morse, Oregon Republican, says mine owners should be punished as criminals for unsafe mines.

If the mine owners thought they had Big John in a box after the supreme court decisions, they know now he's bounced back to cause them plenty of grief, and expense, too.

So it adds up to this:

Big John, who might have looked crushed in a corner, took his miners out of the pits when the supreme court said they shouldn't be out; he will get the mines made safer; and he is back in the bright light, which he loves.

KOREANS' CHOICE. Flying to Seoul, Korea, from Washington, D. C., Dr. Syngman Rhee, leading anti-Communist of American-held south Korea, concludes a U. S. visit to prevent Communist infiltration into a proposed new south Korean government. In an unofficial popular vote, Dr. Rhee has been designated most likely choice for president of any Korean republic that may be set up.

Plan Bucyrus Luncheon

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus Federation of Church Women made tentative plans for the annual luncheon and named committees at a meeting of the advisory board held Monday night in Epworth Methodist church. Officers will be named at the annual meeting. Mrs. Paul Krauter is the general program chairman.

Mayfair To Go to North Main; Moores Take Old Room.

The Mayfair grill will move to 135 North Main street and an adjacent room next month. Alterations are now under way at the rooms, one of which was formerly occupied by Noblet's restaurant.

Moore's Auto Supply store, now at 130 South Main street, will move into Mayfair's present location at 135 South Main street as soon as the occupants move out, according to V. H. Long, manager of the store.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Butterworth, who operate a home-made candy business at their home at 443 Oak street, will move into 130 South Main street when it is available, according to John Dugan, owner of the building.

Marion Man Elected By Ohioans in Florida

Frank S. Ansley of 306 South Prospect street was elected vice president of the Ohio State Tourist society for 1947-1948 at the tourist center in St. Petersburg, Fla., recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Ansley have been spending the winter in St. Petersburg. They plan to return to Marion June 1. Owen McDonough was installed as president of the society.

The group will hold a summer picnic at Buckeye Lake, O., on July 23.

Eight "Good Mornings"

A FINE compliment was paid Marion by the Rotary club speaker here this week. It came from J. B. Johnson of Elyria, vice president and division manager of the Ohio Public Service Co.

He said Marion has the reputation of being a friendly city and that just a few hours before he had been given a personal demonstration of the spirit which has won that mark of distinction for the community.

It happened while Mr. Johnson was walking to the city's business district from the home of a friend where he had been a guest.

"Although a total stranger, I was greeted by eight 'Good mornings' from persons I passed in the short distance on my way downtown," he related.

And so a visitor who had heard this a friendly city becomes a witness to testify that he knows it deserves that enviable rating. No doubt he will help give circulation of this good word about Marion elsewhere and thus add to the city's prestige.

Doubtless they didn't know it, but the eight Marion residents who spoke the cheery "Good mornings" were providing proof that keeping their home town on a high standard and promoting its progress is primarily something to be achieved every day with every person in the community taking part. Not all are qualified or in position to fill posts of leadership in civic activities, not all have the means to contribute large amounts of money to community improvement projects. But all can help to hold and make even more secure their city's right to be recognized as "friendly," which is probably the most valuable of all community assets.

So keep up the "Good morning" spirit. It not only causes visitors to feel they'd like to live here but also makes folks in Marion glad that they do.

Joseph Pulitzer Centennial

JOSEPH PULITZER, Hungarian-born immigrant whose talent for thought and expression made him a powerful editor for a third of a century after 1880, said newspaper workers were members of a profession—the great profession, he believed.

On the centennial of his birth, April 10, 1847, it may be pointed out that it was the talent and perseverance of Joseph Pulitzer which made him the member of a great profession—not a great profession which made him the possessor of talent and perseverance. In newspaper work, as in the so-called learned professions of theology, law and medicine, it is individuals who bestow prestige on their jobs, not jobs which bestow prestige on individuals.

By way of celebrating Joseph Pulitzer's birth fittingly, nothing could do him more honor than a renewed resolution of newspaper workers to perform their tasks so ably that the public will have no reason to wonder whether they are performing a profession, or only holding a job.

Quiescent Quoddy

QUODDY VILLAGE, base of the ill-fated Passamaquoddy Bay tidal power project, will be put up at auction June 1 by the war assets administration. In this day of housing shortages, it offers 120 homes, two 40-family apartment buildings, dormitory, hospital, village hall, power plant, warehouses, wharves, railroad facilities and airport; all of the finest construction. It sounds like a steal at $300,000, which a real estate dealer in nearby Eastport, Me., estimates it will bring.

Almost forgotten now, Passamaquoddy stands as a monument to how not to go about attempting to put over a visionary project. Completed along the lines laid out by Dexter P. Cooper, the engineer who conceived the idea, the project would have cost more than $100,000,000. Instead of working with congressional approval, President Roosevelt allocated $7,000,000 from relief appropriations for 1935, which could no more than lay the groundwork for the vast project. Those funds gone, he then asked congress for $36,000,000 to continue and was refused. Thus the original $7,000,000 was uselessly expended.

There is no way to tell whether the Quoddy project would have been worth its vast investment. But to enter upon a project of such magnitude without any assurance of funds to see it through was one of the follies of the Unthrifty Thirties.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Virginia Finds Way To Handle Utility Strikes

WASHINGTON, April 10 — Only in two states did law prevent a telephone strike — in Virginia and Indiana. The very day the senate labor committee made public a proposed omnibus union reform bill in a quite obvious step to test public opinion as to how far the committee cared to later in drafting finally a long delayed bill—and the very same day the telephone workers union in 42 states tied up public business and phone service in varying degrees—that day the telephone workers in Virginia decided not to strike for fear of the penalties of a new state law. These results of course, were generally reported, but the unnoticed and highly suggestive facts and details behind the Virginia law are substantially these.

Virginia suffered a calamitous strike of electricity employes from its privately owned public utilities last year. Gov. Tuck had to call out the militia to meet living requirements for electrical energy including everything from the icebox and stove in the average home to traffic and street lighting. He maintained public service which was swiftly resumed but there was some legal doubt about the validity of his action, so the state legislature called on Tuck to sponsor some legislation to handle any future attempts to break down the livelihood of the state.

Tuck Has Plan

Tuck came forward forcefully and effectively, and out of his efforts grew the new law passed and put into effect last January 29. Before he could get the law through, another strike of electricity workers was threatened, so the bill was rushed along in a special session he called of the state legislature.

The bill is a simple straightforward law. It says public utilities are such enterprises as "water, light, heat, gas, electricity or transportation" and anything else having to do with same, and the maintenance of these is essential to "the public health, the safety and welfare of the state." It declares a public policy that they shall be maintained.

The penalties which seem to have had more influence on the phone union workers (at least they said these prevented the strike) provide fines of $10 to $1,000 and up to 12 months in jail for any person—any individual, mind you, violating the law. This means, of course, every member of the union, as well as the leaders.

Yet the law allows any to strike if he chooses. The machinery for handling union disputes in public utilities runs like this: either management or unions, expressing a desire to change rates, may serve notice with the governor, and then meet themselves in conference within 60 days. Such negotiations are required to be "in good faith." If management and unions do not reach agreement, another conference must be called within 10 days and the governor is designated the duty of trying them to mediate differences. But if this fails and management calls a lockout or the unions call a strike, both are required to give five weeks' notice to the governor. The governor then can take over the utility by simply issuing an executive proclamation. An employe can strike, if he wishes, but the governor is required to ask each one what he wishes to do. Unless he works for the state, the governor has the right to obtain a suitable substitute worker.

No Rights Impaired

Thus no one is required to work or his right to bargain collectively impaired. Yet rather effective machinery is provided to maintain the superior rights of consumer against both management and labor. It is effective because it stopped the threatened second electricity strike and it prevented Virginia telephone users from suffering the present loss and damage to their business and their peaceful living which has been inflicted on 42 states.

Virginians in the know attribute the law to the courage of one man, Tuck. Yet it is well known Tuck is a friend of Virginia's senator and leader Byrd and a brother of the senator was at least consulted. One defect exists in the act. The state is supposed to take 15 per cent profit during operation, and this would amount to $1,000,000 a year, thus giving the unions virtually the right to force state ownership, or at least to penalize the companies severely at will. There is no reason why the state should get 15 per cent, and the amount will no doubt be cut at the next session of the legislature.

Every one has long recognized the right of the state to fix rates and regulate public utility management to provide fair and uninterrupted service. There is no logical or just reason why unions should be allowed rights which are superior to those of the people — the right to make consumers suffer damages. All it took was courage to do something. And what was done, worked.

Good Candidates Needed

By RAYMOND MOLEY

CHICAGO, April 10 — John S. Knight, writing in his Chicago Daily News, suggests that Democrats who claim that the smashing victory of Chicago's Democratic mayoralty candidate means a reversal of last year's trend are off the beam. It was, he continues, the victory of an able, colorful man against "an amiable political camp follower, virtually unknown and certainly without any particular background for the job to which he aspired.

Democrats, however, are indulging in the first joy they have had in many months. It is suggested that the slogan next year should be 'Had Enough? Vote Democratic."

The point is that we have not had enough from the Republicans. The country is waiting impatiently for action in congress on labor-law revision, on the budget and on several other items which were promised solemnly last year. With the exception of Vandenberg, senate leaders have not been leading and precious time is slipping away.

National Significance

The Chicago election has several aspects which give it national significance. It has badly damaged Governor Dwight Green's national aspirations. It has weakened the influence of the midwestern Republicans who were generally favorable to Taft. And, for that reason, it has lessened their chances to stop the nomination of an eastern or a far-western candidate for the Presidency in 1948.

Colonel Robert R. McCormick, whose power in Illinois Republicanism is unquestioned, repeatedly has declared his opposition to Dewey or any other eastern candidate. He is sympathetic toward Bricker or Taft. He has lost confidence in Vandenberg. But through Governor Green's unfortunate choice of a candidate for mayor, Colonel McCormick's authority has been impaired temporarily. The Tribune supported the party choice, but admitted that the Democratic candidate was a good man.

Follow Old Habit

Even such power as is exercised by the Colonel is insufficient in Illinois to alter the basic habit of lesser machine politicians in this state. That habit has been to let the Democrats have Chicago and the Republicans have the state, except in Presidential elections. There are cynical people here who say this habit had a large part in electing a Democratic mayor this year. There is no proof of collusion. It simply involves a matter of emphasis.

In any event, it is hard to escape the conclusion that the Chicago election has improved Dewey's chances of running away with the Republican nomination or, in case Dewey cannot make the grade, it has improved the possibility of drafting Vandenberg. It also has improved the chances of a dark horse such as Baldwin of Connecticut.

After a two weeks' trip to the Coast and back, this observer believes that the chances of Dewey are better now than those of any other candidate. In California, Stassen is the choice of what might be called the "idealist" element. There is no great enthusiasm among regular California Republicans for Dewey. They say he made a poor showing out there in 1944, not only in his method of campaigning, but in the results at the polls. But it's pretty generally believed that when the delegates throughout the country are chosen, Dewey will be ahead.

Warren First Choice

The California delegation undoubtedly will be for Warren as first choice. This will be arranged largely to prevent any pre-convention fight in California by such outside candidates as Stassen, Dewey and Taft. Californians resent political invasions.

The attitude of Warren himself is much as it was in 1944. He is very busy as governor. He has on his hands a terrific fight with the oil companies over taxes and alleged lobbying by them in the legislature. He just isn't thinking about national politics. And he will make no campaign for the Presidential nomination. If he so desired, he could have the vice presidential nomination. Geography, as well as Warren's liberal views make his suitability as a running mate with any other candidate quite natural. But in 1944 he firmly declined the nomination and there seems to be no change in his attitude now.

The Republicans must offer something good in 1948 or President Truman will succeed himself. As evidenced by the Chicago election, people are not voting for Republicans as such. They are voting for better candidates. The Republicans are on trial.

Australia's Favorable Trade Balance

By The Associated Press

SYDNEY — Australian trade with the United States showed a large Australian export surplus for the seven months ended Jan. 31, according to Commonwealth Statistician Dr. Roland Wilson.

Largely because it is purchasing more Australian wool than any other country, the United States took exports amounting to approximately $93,176,000 during the seven months.

Imports from the United States amounted to $64,265,400, leaving an export surplus for the seven months of approximately $28,910,600.

Valid Answer To Gromyko

By WALTER LIPPMANN

SENATOR VANDENBERG indicated, but owing to his official position could not spell out, the valid reply which we can make to Gromyko's criticism, and on which we can invite the judgment of mankind. It is not that Gromyko's criticism is untrue, or that it is hypocritical of Russia to make any criticism of unilateral action.

It is that the grave error of bypassing the United Nations was recognized almost instantly by the American people and their congress, and that they have insisted on correcting it. The central principles of the charter have been enforced by the American people on their own government, and they have allowed no sophistry, no legalism, no plea of emergency and no consideration of national pride to cover up the mistakes or to deter them from making amends.

The spectacle of this powerful government called into account by its own people, and acknowledging its error to the world, is evidence—which men of good will will respect—that the American people mean to be loyal members of the international community. It is, as Senator Vandenberg called it, an act of voluntary allegiance to the United Nations. It proves, as perhaps nothing else could have done, that the injury to the UN was unintentional, that it was due to an error of the head and not of the will.

The error, as all informed observers know, was due to the fact that the decision to intervene in Greece and Turkey was made suddenly and without sufficient preparation. There are other errors and defects in the policy, due to the same cause, which it is no less necessary to correct. The administration can correct them, and no doubt will wish to do that as the policy is being debated in congress.

Turkish Intent Clear

The first has to do with our strategic purposes in giving military support to Turkey. We have made it clear that we wish to strengthen the Turkish army and that we are making an American naval and air demonstration at the Dardanelles because we are opposed to the absorption of Turkey into the Soviet military orbit. But this decision needs to be supplemented promptly by a statement of our political intentions.

Until that is done, our intervention in Turkey will be provocative without having a definite, realizable, constructive end. We should, therefore, explain to the Soviet government and to the world that we shall exert power in this region until there is reached, and for the purpose of reaching, a negotiated settlement of the disputes and claims on the Turkish, the Greek and the Iranian borders.

Our object is a treaty which settles these disputes. That treaty must insure the security of the Black Sea nations, including Russia, and of the Mediterranean nations and of all countries. When such a treaty has been agreed to, the security of Turkey and the Dardanelles will become the business of the United Nations. Until it is negotiated, it is the business of all the great powers, of which we are one, and not of the Soviet Union alone dealing with Turkey alone.

It has been right, but it is not sufficient, to say why we are intervening. It is necessary also to say what kind of settlement will satisfy us. The Russians may not like that settlement, and their objections are entitled to honest consideration. But at least they will know that our objectives are definite, concrete and limited, that we want a treaty and not an endless quarrel.

Another point of cardinal importance which needs to be dealt with firmly and positively is the Greek civil war. As things stand now, we appear to be committed to unqualified and unlimited intervention on behalf of the present Greek government against a very large section of the Greek people. This is an intolerable commitment, involving grave and unnecessary risks of international conflict. It puts us in a disgraceful position in the eyes of the free people of Europe. It is certain, if it is not radically amended, to nullify any program we may have for the rehabilitation and reconstruction of Greek life.

Purpose in Greece

Our object in intervening in Greece should be not to support the civil war but to settle it. Instead of offering to support this government, we should insist plainly that it be reconstructed at once, that it become a coalition government of national union, and that the first military measure of that government, the first use made of the military power we are supplying, be to guarantee an amnesty to the dissident Greeks. Instead of reinforcing the government in a campaign to crush them, we should reinforce a reconstructed government which can guarantee the personal safety of the dissidents who lay down their arms.

The administration has not been impartial and sufficiently frank about the civil war in Greece. It has spoken much of the armed bands of the extreme left. It has glossed over the armed bands of the extreme right. Yet if the civil war is to be settled, if the armed Communists are to be isolated from the Greeks who, though not Communist, are in rebellion, these moderate Greeks must be protected. Today, if they surrender to the government forces, the chances are that they will be murdered. They will be murdered not by the government forces but by armed bands of the right that the government has tolerated and almost certainly supports secretly.

There can be no amnesty, and therefore no end to the civil war, until there is an honest government in Athens which makes it safe for Greeks to accept amnesty.

There is no doubt that this is intervention in the internal affairs of Greece. But what is the use of pretending that we are not intervening while in fact everybody knows that we are intervening? To support one side in a civil war is intervention. It is, however, an odious form of intervention.

On the other hand, intervention to reform the Greek government, to settle the civil war by mediation, to enforce amnesty by all the power and influence we can exert, is a kind of intervention which can be explained and justified to the conscience of mankind.

The sooner, therefore, that the state department makes it plain that our intervention is not to foment civil war to the bitter end, the better the prospect of success for its Greek enterprise.

Pickup and Putaway

By TRUMAN TWILL

Pickup-and-putaway is a game played by one or more adults and two or more children.

One adult is IT. Usually, this is a woman, though a man also may be IT.

The object of the game is for everybody but the sap, or person who is IT, to drop things a little faster than the sap can pick them up. Eventually the sap gets the screaming meemies and is taken to the happy house.

Or the sap has a nervous breakdown quietly at home and no one ever finds out, except to notice that the victim is wearing a glassy stare.

The sap picks up the toast they've dropped under the breakfast table and wipes the egg off their chins; picks up the pajamas they've left on the floor and mops up the tooth powder they've spilled.

That's only the beginning. In the course of a day, they also will drop papers, books, magazines, pieces of wood and kingsize chunks of mud. They will drop overshoes, hats, coats, handkerchiefs, graham crackers, paper clips, buttons and their lunch.

Their socks will be found under the bed and bathtub. Their wet wash cloths will be wadded up in the soap dish—on top of the soap. The combs and brushes will be balanced on the edge of the sink.

Their clothing will be shed in the middle of the hall and the bedroom. They will leave pop bottles on the kitchen shelf and will smear margarine and jelly on the table cloth. They will leave bicycles standing in driveways, also scooters, wagons, roller skates, stilts, hoops, kites, sleds and all the paraphernalia of a carefree childhood.

All of this must be picked up and put away. In the meantime they will be busy with other items of annoyance. They will leave hammers and screw drivers in the back yard, wood chisels on the cellar steps, wrenches on the living room table, games on the stair landings, basketballs on the dining room table and chemistry equipment in the kitchen sink.

Their pencils and crayons will fill the window sills till they runneth over. They will have spinning tops cached in secret places. Their rings, badges, secret codes, prize pictures and special belts will festoon all desks and tables.

They will leave telephone receivers off hooks and doors standing open. They will forget to turn off water and lights. They will drop their shoes at the exact spot most likely to boobytrap a careless parent, and when the error of their ways is pointed out sternly they will be so contrite and anxious to do better in the immediate future that a sap will be convinced every time.

During the ensuing interval, while the sap is off guard, they will really drop something that counts, like a wad of bubble gum in the middle of the living room carpet.

Officers Are Elected By Pearl Street P.-T.A.

Officers for the coming year were named and plans made to attend a district conference and also the school of instruction at a called meeting of the Pearl Street P.-T. A. Tuesday afternoon at the school.

Mrs. Paul Emery was elected president, Mrs. Jules Kepling, first vice president, Mrs. O. B. Morrison, second vice president, Mrs. George Wilson, secretary and Mrs. Louis Michel, treasurer. It was voted to send two delegates to the district conference April 23 at Delaware and six to the school of instruction to be held here May 8 at which time officers of all P.-T. A. units will be installed. Devotions were by Mrs. Robert Cleveland.

During the business session the members indorsed Senate Bill No. 48 which provides additional state aid for public schools. The "Oakland Darktown Minstrels," staged by members of the Oakland P.-T. A. directed by Mrs. William Roberts, made up the entertainment program. The third grade, taught by Miss Margaret Topliff, received the attendance banner. A cafeteria supper will be held April 18 from 5 to 7 p. m. at the school.

SINATRA REQUESTS TRIAL. Sinatra To Tell Story To Jury

Slugging Crooner Faces Assault Trial Set for May 28.

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, April 10 — Frankie Sinatra, now a member of that large fraternity of Hollywood nightclub fisticuffers, will give a jury a blow-by-blow account of his midnight melee Tuesday night with New York newspaper columnist Lee Mortimer.

The gaunt little crooner pleaded innocent to a battery charge in Beverly Hills justice court late yesterday and asked for a jury trial which was set for May 28.

Accounts of the Sinatra-Mortimer one-round bout at a nightclub were colorful and varied. However, Sinatra appeared the winner. He was escorted into Judge Bert P. Woodard's court by sheriff's deputies, walking briskly and unscratched.

Mortimer, motion picture editor of the New York Daily Mirror, had a noticeable bruise on the cheek.

The bobby soxers' favorite was released on 500 bail, after a 30-minute wait for a bail bondsman, and early today he left by plane—dodging photographers at the airport—for New York to receive the Thomas Jefferson award from the Council Against Intolerance in America on Sunday. He plans to return Tuesday.

The battery charge, brought on a complaint signed by Mortimer, is a misdemeanor and upon conviction would carry a possible maximum punishment of a $1,000 fine or six months in jail or both.

Mortimer sat silently in the courtroom when the crooner said: "I plead not guilty and wish a jury trial—sometime late next month."

Sinatra and his friends said the fracas started when the columnist called the singer a profane name. Mortimer said Sinatra and friends jumped on him and beat him without warning as he was leaving Ciro's, a fashionable night spot, with Miss Kay Kino, a band singer.

The singer told newsmen that for two years Mortimer has been "needling" him in his column.

"He has referred to my bobby-soxer fans as morons," he said. "They are only kids 14 and 15 years old."

Mortimer said of the fracas:

"The first thing I knew, I was on the floor and the next thing I knew was when I saw a face that looked like Sinatra's above me."

Three Arts Club Presents Guest Party Program

WHEN members of the Three Arts club entertained with their annual guest party Tuesday evening at Hotel Harding they followed an annual custom of contributing to a birthday fund, the proceeds of which are used for a worthy project. This year the money will be contributed to the purchase of equipment to provide projected reading for veterans in hospitals.

A program of vocal numbers by Miss Elizabeth Edgar, accompanied by Miss Rosaline Manzo, and a review of "Mrs. Mike," by Benedict and Nancy Freedman, given by Mrs. Clarence W. Weiser, provided entertainment for the hostesses and guests.

For the dinner the table was decorated in spring flowers and favors were rosebuds. Guests included Miss Edgar, Miss Manzo, Mrs. Z. L. Bush, Mrs. A. W. Kette, Mrs. F. L. Thomas, Mrs. T. E. Reed Jr., Mrs. T. H. Sutherland, Mrs. Harry Ramer, Mrs. Will Denney, Mrs. Daniel Hubbard, Mrs. Jo Borren and Mrs. Evelyn Ford.

War Housing Project Residents Buy Homes

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 10—Residents of Greenmont village of near Dayton, a 500-unit war-born mutual housing project, have purchased their homes from the federal public housing authority for $1,662,151.

The sale, announced by FPHA Regional Director Charles B. Lawrence, marks the first such transaction among the eight projects started by the government in 1941 to provide housing for defense workers.

Payments will be made in monthly installments by residents to a non-profit mutual housing corporation, Lawrence said.

15 HURT IN WRECK OF SANTA FE PASSENGER

By The Associated Press

EATON, N. M., April 10—The Santa Fe railway Super Chief, luxury all-Pullman train, was derailed near Otero, N. M., late yesterday, injuring 15 persons and blocking the Santa Fe's northern main line.

The accident was the seventh in as many days on the nation's railroads.

Among the injured were Mrs. Bonica Neither, one of the famous Dolly Sisters of the theater, and her husband, Irving, of New York and Chicago.

Attending physicians said none of the wreck injured was in serious condition.

Thirteen persons remained in the hospital.

Equipment failure was indicated as a possible cause of the wreck. Santa Fe officials early today announced finding of a loose piece of steel used to fasten rails to the ties. The piece was found where the first car jumped the rails a half miles from the crash.

Ohio Aviation Pioneer Dies at New York City

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 10—Samuel Stewart Bradley, 71-year-old native of Medina, O., and chairman of the board of the Manufacturers Aircraft association, died here yesterday.

An aviation pioneer, Bradley was a business and civic leader of New York for more than 40 years and since 1917 had been connected with the Manufacturers Aircraft association, concerned with patent cross-license agreements in the industry.

During both wars he played prominent roles in America's military aviation setup and in 1919 was named secretary of the American Aviation mission to Europe by President Wilson. In 1920, he organized the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, now the Aircraft Industries Association of America, the industry's trade association.

FRANK D. GUSHURST DIES AT HOME HERE

Ill Since 1942; Funeral Set for Saturday.

Frank David Gushurst, 69, died in his home at 322 Oliver street at 9:30 a. m. today. He had been ill since December, 1942.

Born May 27, 1877, in Cincinnati, he was a son of Frank D. and Emeline Bonner Gushurst, natives of Germany. He was a butcher by trade, and was an employe of the Ohio Market here 12 years, then worked for the Marion Metal Products Co. A resident of Marion 20 years, he came here from Cincinnati. He was a member of First Pilgrim Holiness church.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Etta Mae Cleveland Gushurst, whom he married Dec. 11, 1924, in Cincinnati, the following children, Mrs. Raymond Wilson of Marion, and Misses Anna and Grace Gushurst and Frank D. Gushurst II, all at home, children by a former marriage, Neil and Samuel Gushurst, Mrs. Phillip Coffey, and Mrs. Edward Goddey, all of Cincinnati, and nine grandchildren. He was last of three brothers who operated a meat market in Cincinnati a number of years.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 1:30 p. m. in the Schaffner - Denzer funeral home on East Center street by Rev. Joel Harman, pastor of First Pilgrim church. Burial will be in Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after Friday noon.

CONNALLY

could gain the friendship of the United States.

4-Point Program

To do that, he called on the Soviet Union to:

"1 Cease to infiltrate other countries,

"2. Cease to employ her armies as a threat to her neighbors;

"3 Respect the sovereignty and integrity of other nations;

"4. Perform her obligations to the United Nations to promote peace and peaceful settlements."

Asserting that this country wants only peace, Conally told his colleagues.

"The United States wants Russia to have her own government within her own borders, but no farther. Russia has a right to select her own system of government, but she has no right by political pressure, by the threat of armed force, to sap the strength of independent and sovereign peoples and to so enervate them and strip them of their strength as to be able to bring them under her domination."

"No Hope for UN"

Connally said there is no hope of obtaining an equitable settlement of the Greek-Turkish problem from the United Nations. He noted the charge made by Andrei Gromyko, Russia's UN delegate, that the United States is 'bypassing" the international organization.

"Mr. Gromyko, of course, does not want Greece or Turkey to receive aid either from the United Nations or from the United States If a proposal should be made to the United Nations organization to supply the aid carried in this bill, Mr. Gromyko, as a representative of Soviet Russia, would accordingly to my belief, promptly interpose a veto."

Describing threats to Greece the Texas senator said there is "ample evidence" that the guerrilla bands which are fighting the government "are being encouraged, stimulated and motivated from the states of Albana, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria, all of which are under the domination of Russia and her communistic system."

"Turkey Under Threat"

He said it is well known that "Turkey is under constant threat from abroad and that her security is endangered"

"The world needs but to look about at the unfortunate situation of Poland, of Czecho-Slovakia, with a great and glorious history, and of Romania, to know how the Russian system has engulfed these unfortunate lands and broken the spirit of their people," Connally declared.

Even now in Moscow, he continued, Russia is "delaying and blocking action on a pence for Germany," because Soviet Russia "wants to implant her ideology, her Communistic system in that unhappy land and to bring her people within the Soviet orbit."

PRIDE OF 35 MEETS

When Pride of 35 Lodge No 79, Ladies' Auxiliary to B. of R. T., met Tuesday night at the lodge hall, plans were made for observance of the fifty-third anniversary with a party April 22. CASE OF MISSING LIQUOR FADING OUT

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 9 — Liquor Enforcement Chief William J. Kelch confident today the case of the 27 missing cases of Canadian rye whisky apparently was fading out.

Kelch said he had received a letter from Chris Mason, Cincinnati, truck driver from whom a cargo of liquor was confiscated Dec. 12, saying only 372 cases were involved in the controversy.

Previously, Mason and his attorneys had contended 399 cases were on the truck, consigned to Paul Sons of North Carolina, and that 27 cases disappeared between Van Wert, where the confiscation took place, and Columbus, where the liquor now is stored.

Kelch said 200 cases were stored in the central warehouse in Columbus and 172 cases in the state liquor department building, with one held for evidence.

Mason in his letter announced he planned to pick up the 372 cases here today as a result of the action of the Van Wert county grand jury Monday on a quash charges of illegal transportation and illegal possession.

However Kelch said the truck will not be released without a court order.

He said although Mayor Verne Edwards of Van Wert had assessed a fine, penalty of $125 and costs on Mason, plea of guilty so the case could go to the grand jury, the mayor's order had not been vacated.

Mason has not paid the fine, he said, because the mayor agreed to hold them in abeyance pending grand jury action.

Robert P. Duncan, Marion counsel in Columbus, was interested in a replevin action to recover the whisky, which enforcement officers said was camouflaged under a layer of Christmas trees at the time of the confiscation.

Mr and Mrs. Fred Warner Jr of Memphis, Tenn., are parents of a son, Frank Marshall, born Easter Sunday in the Memorial Baptist hospital there. Mr Warner, a former resident of Marion, is a son of Mrs. Fred Warner of 604 Girard avenue.

4-H Club Chairman Waldo School Speaker

Guest speaker at the Waldo school assembly Tuesday was L. E. Lutz, chairman of 4-H club work in the county. He gave a discussion on the work of the 4-H club. He explained that it requires work, time, some money and ability to plan and carry a project through to completion. He stated that a boy or girl receives not only money for his or her project when he exhibits and sells it, but also receives the confidence which goes with planning and completing a project. Recreation is also a part of 4-H club activities in which boys and girls are taught how to live together.

LIMITED RAMS BOXCARS—Wreckage and wheels from Manhattan limited bound from Chicago to New York, pictured here, plunged into a freight train which had backed on a parallel track at Canton, O., it was learned today. Engineer Joseph Hoffman of Akron, Ohio, and a fireman were killed and 25 passengers were shaken up.

Galion Youth Bound Over to Grand Jury

Special to The Star

GALION, April 10—Following a probable cause hearing before Mayor William Arnold Wednesday afternoon Robert Travers Needles, 22, pleaded guilty to three charges. He was bound over to the grand jury on a $1,000 bond on an armed robbery charge. His bond on an auto theft charge was placed at $1,000 and on a charge of grand larceny the bond was for $500.

Meanwhile young Needles is being held in the city jail while police make further investigation of his activities. He was arrested early Tuesday by Sheriff Ralph Sargent after an engagement of several hours of the officers after the roadup of Richard Groff at the Four Point filling station here.

ABSOLUTE STYMIE GRIPS FOREIGN MINISTERS GROUP

Stalemate Expected to Extend to Entire German Question.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, April 10—Absolute deadlock gripped the council of foreign ministers today on British-American proposals to settle Poland's western frontier in favor of Germany, and indications were that the stalemate would extend to the whole German boundary issue.

While questions concerning the future of the industrial Ruhr, the Rhineland and the Saar remained to be discussed by the Big Four—probably at today's session—the generally held view among the western powers was that failure to agree on Germany's eastern border would serve to stymie settlement of any boundary line.

The western diplomats expressed belief that the council of foreign ministers should take no action on the problem now, except to give the deputy foreign ministers some directives for post-Moscow studies of the whole complex border matter.

As it now stands, the situation merely adds up to one more basic split widening the clash of disagreement between the Russians and the western powers.

Nickel Plate Reports Record Peacetime Profit

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 10—The Nickel Plate road's operating revenues for 1946 totaled $54,232,966, highest for any peacetime year in the company's history, President John W. Davin told stockholders today in the road's annual report.

This figure was 13.13 per cent under $85,567,129 in 1945, and $26,125,582 less than operating revenues for the war year of 1944. Except for 1941, when war preparations were under way, the company's previous peacetime peak was $57,477,379 in 1923.

Net income for 1946 was $5,367,790, compared with $8,083,229 for the preceding year, a decrease of 31.12 per cent.

Universal Cooler Sessions Continue

Negotiations were in progress today between representatives of the Universal Cooler division of the International Detroit Corp. and the Universal Cooler unit of Local 750, UAW (CIO) over a new union contract involving wage increases and various other adjustments.

The sessions are expected to continue through tomorrow. One of the principal issues of union demands is a wage increase of 23½ cents an hour, with the union maintaining the company is offering a seven cent increase.

Members of Local 750 voted Monday to authorize their executive committee to call a strike at the plant unless a contract settlement could be reached by the end of this month.

FINED AND SENTENCED

Gilbert E. Saunders, 28, of the C. and O. railroad camp, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the Columbus workhouse when he pleaded guilty today in municipal court to a charge of stealing a bicycle. The bicycle is owned by John Wherrett of 450 Avondale avenue, according to police. Saunders was arrested Wednesday.

Brazil lies almost entirely within the torrid zone, though large sections have a temperate climate.

LILIENTHAL VOTED IN AFTER 11-WEEK TIFF

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10—The atomic energy commission came out of its huddle today and plunged immediately into many tasks pending for peaceful and military development of nuclear power.

The actions which ended soon the commission during 11 weeks of argument in Congress. Five to 1 and with a gun at the senate voted 34 to 11 to confirm David E. Lilienthal as the chairman's job he has held since Jan. 1. Four fellow commissioners and General Manager Carroll L. Wilson also were confirmed without the formality of a vote.

Lilienthal's aides said commission operations had been "seriously" handicapped by uncertainty over the status of the commissioners membership.

Lilienthal's aides said commissioners to the commission's difficulties as a terse official statement in which he said "the important thing now is to get on with the job."

"The job" entails the outright ownership for the government of all atomic plants and materials in this country as well as sweeping authority over research and development work in all fields.

The $4,000 post of director of engineering is among the more important 100 vacancies still to be filled.

Also the commission wants to revise the present short term nature of most of its contracts with industrial firms and universities for operation of the chain of big atomic research plants now in use or being built.

But while all six of President Truman's atomic commissioners were approved, there are indications that the controversy may flare up again in the next few weeks. Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), who opposed the Yale appointee, Lilienthal, has intimated that he will demand searching scrutiny of the commission's files.

LABOR

ing term job of the workers pay ought to be "adjustable" or at least left to collective bargaining. The bill allows the check-off only if maintenance employees authorize it in writing.

Predicts Favorable Vote

Chairman Hartley (R-NJ) stood by a prediction that all 15 committee Republicans will vote solidly to bring the bill before the house, although some might attach "reservations" and support additional changes on the floor.

He called the committee to an afternoon session to vote on the measure section by section.

Hartley said in a formal statement that the proposed "labor-management peace act" of 1947 does three things:

"First, it takes the subject of labor relations out of the area of politics and false premises and places it firmly on the principles implicit in the constitution of the United States.

"Second it defines the rights of the public, the employe, the union and the employer to the end that industrial disputes may diminish in number and decrease in destructiveness.

"Third, it sets up machinery to insure that the new national policy, which recognizes that the public interest is paramount, shall be honestly and efficiently administered."

Court Order Legalized

A strike affecting the national interest would be handled by giving the attorney general the right to ask for a court order to stave off or stop the tie-up.

The injunction would be good for 75 to 90 days. During that time, mediation and arbitration would be tried. If that failed the union still could strike, but the government could also get another injunction and try again.

Hartley's statement said the bill would replace the present national labor relations board with a new one which would not act as "prosecutor, judge and jury." Its only duty would be to decide labor cases.

A new, independent administrator of the labor relations law would investigate cases, present them to the board, and take decisions into court for enforcement, if necessary.

Order Crestline Man Sent to Lima Hospital

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 10 — John Long of Crestline, indicted by the grand jury on a charge of assault with intent to rape, was ordered removed to the state hospital at Lima for a 30 day observation period. At the same time trials scheduled for Arnold T. Foster, indicted for carrying concealed weapons and John Shepherd for nonsupport were removed from assignment and the men will be permitted to make new pleas.

Cardington Driver Fined After Mishap

James A. Smith, 49, of near Cardington was fined $10 and costs today in municipal court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving following an accident yesterday afternoon at the junction of state routes 98 and 229 southeast of Marion.

The state patrol said Smith's truck collided with a car driven by James Prymuszak, 14, of Cleveland Heights. Smith suffered a slight cut over the eye.

11,367,989 Served In U. S. Wartime Army

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10 — A total of 11,367,989 men and women served in the army between Nov. 11, 1940 and July 31, 1945, the war department reported today.

Saying the report was "final on personnel by dates of residence for the war period, the announcement reported army strength at 7,799,102 last July 31 and said 3,568,887 of those who entered service had been separated from duty.

The figures by states and territories for men and women (all in even thousands) included Ohio, 590,000 and 11,740.

HOUSE CHALLENGED ON FIRING LABOR MAN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach yesterday challenged the right of the house to ask Commissioner Director Edgar L. Warren and 19 of his top aides to refuse to appropriate for their salaries.

Schwellenbach told a senate appropriations subcommittee:

"This action of the house would seem to be an unconstitutional exercise of the executive functions by the congress."

The $438,000 house cut in funds for the conciliation service was part of a $1,000,000 slash in the labor department's operating budget for 1948 for the $31,850,000 asked by President Truman to $13,516,000.

Schwellenbach declared that if the senate upholds the 43 per cent reduction the department will be unable to carry out many functions required of it by law.

He said the result will be "detrimental consequences to our economy far outweighing the apparent savings of 13½ million dollars."

"I am in complete accord with the view that it is necessary to begin making substantial reduction in our national debt," the labor secretary said in a prepared statement. "But I am firmly convinced that this must be done without cutting off services which are vital to the maintenance of a stable, free economy."

He said the house action would eliminate virtually the whole conciliation service and add "confusion" and "the organization would become a headless body."

VETERANS' NEWS AND INFORMATION

Prepared by The Public Relations Service, Veterans Administration, Branch Office No. 6, 52 S. Sterling street, Columbus, 8, Ohio. Phone Main 6361; Ext. 281.

Machines Aid in Care Of VA Mental Cases

A comprehensive program in recording and interpreting "brain waves" is being expanded by the Veterans Administration in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky to aid in the diagnosis of neurological disorders.

Technically known as electroencephalography, the science of recording brain waves by machine is becoming an increasingly important diagnostic method in VA hospitals and mental hygiene clinics.

The machines now are in operation in VA hospitals at Cleveland (Crile), Chillicothe and Dayton, O.; Louisville, Ky., and Ft. Custer and Dearborn, Mich. Machines have been requisitioned for the VA's Cleveland and Detroit Regional Offices and for the VA hospital in Lexington, Ky.

The equipment in Crile VA Hospital at Cleveland and in Nichols VA Hospital at Louisville also is available for the use of psychiatrists working in VA mental hygiene clinics in the two cities.

Personnel has been assigned from the Ohio - Michigan - Kentucky VA area to take specialized training in Chicago in use of the equipment.

VA Dependency Ruling Aids Married Students

Married women veterans with dependent children may receive $90 a month subsistence allowance while attending school even though they are recognized by the Veterans Administration as dependents of husbands also attending school under the G.I. Bill.

VA officials pointed out that while a woman veteran would be limited to $65 monthly if only she and her husband were considered, a child or children entitles her to an allowance of $90 monthly because, in the words of the law, she has a dependent. However, in order to receive the full subsistence, the woman veteran's income from outside work must not exceed $110 a month. The same income limitations apply to the husband.

• • •

Advise Disabled Vets Of Training Benefits

Education and job - training benefits available to disabled veterans are more liberal under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act (Public Law 16) than under the G.I. Bill (Public Law 346).

VA officials said that in nearly every instance it is to the advantage of a disabled veteran to receive his schooling or job training under provisions of Public Law 16.

Under the G.I. Bill, veterans may be entitled to one year of education, plus the time they spent in service, up to a maximum of four years. Job-training courses under the G.I. Bill generally are limited to two years.

Also, under the G.I. Bill, veterans are affected by the $175-$200 monthly income-subsistence ceiling.

Under Public Law 16, disabled veterans may enroll in educational or training courses of sufficient length to permit them to overcome their handicaps. However, these courses usually do not extend beyond four years. They are advised into objectives best suited for them in view of their service-connected disabilities and their progress is supervised by VA training officers. They are not affected by the $175-200 ceiling and they usually receive a higher subsistence rate. Also, disabled veterans who are entering training under Public Law 16 are eligible for a loan of $100 from VA, which is repaid in installments.

• • •

VA Has Openings In Psychiatric Program

The Veterans Administration has several openings for psychiatrists in its hospitals and mental hygiene clinics in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky, the three states which are under jurisdiction of the VA's Branch Office No. 6 in Columbus, O.

Openings are available in VA hospitals at Cleveland (Crile), Chillicothe and Dayton, O.; Dearborn and Ft. Custer, Michigan; and Lexington, Ky. Positions also are open in VA mental hygiene clinics in Cleveland, Cincinnati and Detroit. Salaries range from $4,149 to $9,975 annually. Applications should be sent to the VA's Columbus Branch Office.

• • •

VA Exempts Drill Pay From Income Reports

Veterans in school and in job-training programs under the G.I. Bill may receive drill pay as members of the National Guard without including it in their reports of estimated earnings.

VA officials explained that drill pay is not considered compensation for productive labor and therefore is not counted against the subsistence allowances veterans receive from VA.

Questions and Answers

Q. I have a blue discharge from the Army. Am I entitled to any of the benefits under the G.I. Bill?

A. If you have other than an honorable discharge, you may request VA to review the circumstances under which it was issued. If it is found that your discharge was issued under conditions other than dishonorable, you will be eligible for benefits under the G.I. Bill.

Q. Will VA accept collect telephone calls made by physicians who wish to ascertain whether they will be paid for emergency treatments given veterans?

A. Yes.

Q. Can I borrow on my converted G.I. Insurance?

A. Yes. Any converted policy in force by payment of premiums one year or longer affords the insured the right to borrow up to 94 per cent of the case value by submitting a proper loan agreement to the VA prior to the expiration of the grace period.

Q. I am a World War I veteran and I was married in June, 1945. Is my wife entitled to receive a pension when I die?

A. A widow of a World War I veteran, if she otherwise qualifies, is entitled to receive a pension if she was married to the veteran before Dec. 14, 1944, or for 10 or more years. Consequently, your wife would not be eligible for pension if you die less than ten years after your marriage.

Q. Is there a time limit for filing for a waiver of premiums on G.I. insurance by the insured, and how far back may a waiver be granted?

A. Application for waiver of premium should be made by the insured immediately after he has been totally disabled for six months. Ordinarily, his waiver will not be made effective for more than one year prior to the date of his application. However, VA may make the waiver effective in excess of one year where it is determined that the insured's failure to make timely application was due to circumstances beyond his control.

Junior Sportsmen Formed at Green Camp

GREEN CAMP—Sixteen boys signed cards for membership in the Junior Sportsmans' club at a community meeting in the township hall Tuesday. Mrs. George Henderson was in charge of registration. An outline of club activities was given by Rev. F. Melvin Wentz. Rules and regulations were read by Rev. Lester R. Kidd. H. D. Kempton led a open forum discussion on the rules and regulations. Motion pictures were shown. Kitty Kempton gave an acrobatic act. Accordion music was played by Miss Virginia Haas. Arthur Craven of Marion presented a ventriloquist act. Thomas Finch announced that club members who make themselves eligible will be admitted free one night each week to see a Marion Cub ball game, through arrangements made with the ball team president. Imrie Army Week Talk Urges Universal Military Training

The United States needs [illegible] universal military training to [illegible] world-be aggressors we have the power to defend ourselves, Major Thomas A. Imrie, public relations director of the Fifth Service Command, told the mayor's Army advisory committee in its first meeting Wednesday night at Hotel Harding.

Fourteen committeemen, drawn from representatives in the community, attended. The talk was a feature of Army week. The committee will meet [illegible] month.

Major Imrie explained the [illegible] we have had a period of grace to prepare in war [illegible] our allies held back the enemy. [illegible] Legion, and Technical Sergeant Anthony J. DeFlavio of the Army recruiting station.

Sgt. DeFlavio spoke over WMRN this afternoon at 2:45, giving a review of the Army's history.

The Army recruiting station has enrolled Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Senior Scouts of the Harding Area Council on a tour of the Marion Engineer Depot Saturday morning.

They will be transported to the depot in Army trucks. The boys are to assemble at the rear of Central Junior High school Saturday at 9:30 a. m. After touring the depot, the boys are invited to see the exhibit to be set up by the Army recruiting station at the courthouse.

Scouts and Cubs also will participate in the parade Saturday night, with marching and trucks in Army vehicles.

Salvation Army Lays Plans To Open Summer Playground

Another step in the Salvation Army young people's program was taken when the project of establishing a playground at the east end of North Prospect street was presented to the advisory board Wednesday night at a meeting held at Army headquarters. The board unanimously supported the plan and steps will be taken to get the project under way immediately to make the playground available for this summer's activities.

The need of such a recreational center was placed before the board and Brigadier Harold Zealley of Cincinnati, divisional commander, by Adjutant Mary Knewitz stated she had realized the need of such a project during the war years but that other pressing projects necessitated postponement.

Committee Takes Over

The matter was turned over to the youth committee and plans will get under way immediately to make the playground available by the time school is dismissed this spring. Brigadier Zealley voiced his approval of the project, calling attention to the fact that the Army had established itself in the neighborhood since taking over quarters on North Prospect street three years ago and pointing out that the army's young people's program needed facilities for expansion.

The adjutant's report disclosed that many persons here and are applying for aid, particularly transients. Two-thirds of the transients receiving aid are ex-service men, she stated. Every possible effort is made to assist all ex-servicemen who apply by providing room and meals for them at local lodging places. Sometimes meals are prepared for them at the citadel, she stated.

Care for Transients

During the last year 307 transients have applied for help. Of these 146 were rejected because they were able-bodied and could work, or were repeaters. Following a system established in 1942 a card file is kept with detailed information and the signature of the transient. The report showed that 131 men transients and 16 women transients were cared for. 61 received lodging, 109 given meals, 30 received garments, four transportation, five telegrams were sent and one long distance telephone call made. The transients were sent to the Salvation Army from police headquarters, the Red Cross, the Marion County Welfare department and some are directed to the citadel by individuals.

Brigadier Zealley talked on the general work of the Army and commended Adjutant Nurkewicz and Lt. Mary Davis on their work here. Following the supper and business session a film on the work of the Salvation Army was shown.

RED CROSS ANNUAL MEETING DATE SET

Election of Officers To Be Held May 14.

Wednesday, May 14 was set as the date for the annual meeting of the Marion county chapter of the American Red Cross at a meeting of the board of directors Wednesday at Hotel Harding. As a former years all members of the Red Cross are eligible to attend the meeting which will be held at Hotel Harding. At this time officers and a board of directors will be elected for the ensuing year. Homer D. Cole, chairman, named the following to serve as a nominating committee: E. E. Hall, Kenneth Fleece and Mrs. J. H. Harmon.

Mr. Cole read a communication regarding the national convention which will be held this year at Cleveland June 9 to 12. This marks the 75th time in the history of the organization that the national convention has been held in Ohio. The board voted to send the incoming chairman the executive secretary, Miss Lillian Plant and a representative of the Junior Red Cross to the meeting.

Gene Hill, veteran of World War I and World War II, gave a talk on the work of the Red Cross with the armed forces. He related many personal incidences of the cooperation received and commended the organization on its outstanding work in both conflicts. He stated he could find no fault with the program or workers and commented on the readiness and speed with which the organization responded when called upon to aid veterans at camps and elsewhere.

D. of A. Members Here for Rally

Several hundred women, representing councils of the Fourth district Daughters of America, are guests of local court is for an afternoon and evening meeting today in the Eagles hall. Ritualistic work, a memorial service and election and installation of officers were to make up the afternoon session. A banquet will be a social feature of the one-day meeting.

The address this evening will be by Mrs. Hilda Bidwell of Cleveland, state councillor and there will be music. Lodge work will include the installation of officers of the Past Councillor association in the district. Mrs. Essie Thompson, district deputy, is presiding for the sessions.

CLASS GIVES PROGRAM

Mrs. M. B. Hale conducted the devotions, reading the story, "The Beautiful Gate," in a meeting of the Ladies' Bible class of the First Evangelical and Reformed Sunday school Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. H. Reidenbaugh of Orchard street. Mrs. Lee Howison read a poem, "Behind the Plow," and Mrs. W. E. Morganthaler read a story, "He Took My Whipping for Me." Mrs. A. A. Goerlich gave a humorous reading. Plans were made to sew rags for a rug in the near future. The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Frank Barnhill in serving refreshments. John Allen Barnhill was a guest.

Panel Discussion On P.-T.A. Program

Music and a panel discussion will make up the program arranged for a meeting of the City Council P.-T. A. tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the home economics room at Harding High school. The music will be by the Eastside Mothersingers directed by Mrs. Warren J. Wise. The panel discussion will be directed by Ben Peterson of the Civic Planning commission whose subject will be "What Our City Has Done and Will Do Towards Betterment." Mrs. Richard Plantz, president, will preside.

new opportunities to use in promoting mine safety."

In another phase of the coal situation, UMW lawyers were scheduled to go before Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough today to try to get back $2,800,000 of the fine imposed on the union for contempt during a strike last December.

In advance of the noon courtroom drama, the justice department kept rigidly silent on its position concerning the current "safety shutdown" of the bulk of the nation's bituminous pits. Some thought assistant Attorney General John P. Sonnett might ask for a postponement.

Lewis in effect told his union members to stay out of the mines until federal inspectors have ruled them in compliance with the government's mine safety code.

Thus the big issue was this: would the government—or the judge—view this as a new strike against the government?

There was the possibility of an answer from the government by mid-morning.

Marion Man Speaks At State Convention

Delmas V. Jenkins, circulation manager of The Star, will be one of the speakers at the convention of Ohio circulation managers association Thursday and Friday at Akron. Approximately 100 members are attending. The Associated Press reported.

DELEGATES REPORT AT CIO MEETING

Tell of Attending Hearing in State Senate.

The Marion Industrial Union Council, at a meeting Tuesday night at 30 East Center street, voted to accept reports of delegates who attended Tuesday's session in the state senate.

Approximately 500 CIO delegates from various affiliated unions and councils of the Ohio CIO council attended the state session.

The Marion council's representatives were Ed Parr, Harold Townsend, Henry Johnson, Robert Silcox, James Jenkins and Otis McCleary, coming from their respective unions.

Harold Townsend, chairman of the Marion council's legislative committee, reported the employers unemployment compensation bill passed in the senate. He said "the bill makes more unequal reductions in the way of payless benefits and hands employers a $28,000,000 annual savings on reduced contributions to the unemployment fund."

James Jenkins, vice president of Local 1347, United Steel Workers, said that prior to the senate session, the Marion CIO delegation discussed the employers' unemployment compensation bill with Senator David Knight, Republican of Belle Center. He stated the CIO delegation urged the senator to vote against the bill and quoted the senator as saying "I am going to vote for the bill. I must vote with my party."

Ellis Oiler, president of the Marion CIO council, commented on a communication from E. L. Poole, superintendent of Marion trades, available to vocational schools regarding the veterans conference to be held Friday. He said the executive board of the council suggested a committee be sent to the conference with instructions to work for a broader vocational program and increase the number of trades available to veterans. The council voted to follow the executive board's recommendation.

FORD HONORED BY DETROIT

City Factories and Traffic To Pause at Time of Magnate's Funeral.

DETROIT, April 10—This industrial metropolis—built in large part because of the work of Henry Ford—paused today to honor him in death.

Great factories of the world's automotive capital ordered halts in production for a moment in the course of the pioneer industrialist's funeral.

The last rites for the millionaire who died Monday night were scheduled for 2:30 p. m., and thousands of mourners were expected to pay Ford his farewell.

Mrs. Ford and other members of the family set public services in the great, dim nave of St. Paul's Episcopal cathedral, situated near downtown Detroit on busy Woodward avenue, the street down which Ford drove his first automobile 50 years ago.

Governor Kim Sigler of Michigan asked that the brief silence honoring the founder of the Ford motor empire be extended throughout the state, with industrial plants ceasing operations for a minute and vehicles on Michigan's street and highway's braked to a stop in tribute to the man credited with putting America on wheels.

Many of the same thousands who solemnly filed past Ford's bier Wednesday were expected to jam into the church and line the street outside during the 35-minute services.

Mourners yesterday included working men in overalls, women in furs, small children to whom Ford was only a name, and some of the nation's top industrialists who have long hailed him as the father of mass production and one of the country's great geniuses.

After the church rites, the family has asked that pomp and ceremony be abandoned. Plans call for a police-escorted calvalcade to bear Ford on his final journey across the city, with immediate members of the family his only companions.

Tiny Addison Ford cemetery, adjoining the farm where Henry Ford was born July 30, 1863, and now in the shadows of the company's great Rouge plant, is the destination of the funeral procession.

Ford's grave was to be a humble plot of ground beside his father and mother.

A dog has 42 permanent teeth.

Slavery was abolished in Brazil in 1888.

GREAT AND SMALL HONOR HENRY FORD —Lunch pails and brief cases mingle in the long line formed before the Greenfield village recreation hall in Detroit's suburban Dearborn as friends from all walks of life pay a final tribute to Henry Ford. As a token of respect for the 83-year-old industrial genius, whose sudden death followed a cerebral hemorrhage, the wheels of the nation's entire automotive industry were halted during the magnate's funeral today. Ford motor plants will fly flags at half-staff for 30 days.

Asthma Attack

When a child has an attack of asthma the noisy, difficult breathing, the coughing and gasping are likely to frighten parents beyond all need. It is, indeed, most distressing to watch a child in the grip of one of these seizures, but the seizure usually passes without leaving any disastrous consequences.

Such attacks do not usually come on out of a blue sky. There are often some preceding symptoms such as those of a cold, which mothers may learn to recognize. Fortunately, according to Dr. Jerome Glaser of Rochester, New York, proper treatment at this stage may ward off the actual attack of asthma. Thus it pays mothers whose children are subject to asthma to be on the alert for such symptoms.

The first thing to do is to put the child to bed. By so doing he may be protected against such things as dampness, changes in temperature and muscular exercise which tend to aggravate the shortness of breath of an asthmatic attack. He may also be protected from house dust, tobacco smoke and other things which may bring on asthma.

Dr. Glaser also recommends that the child be given some suitable type of cough mixture containing ephedrine, and other substances. If the nose is congested, certain nose drops such as those containing ephedrine may be used. There are similar preparations which seem to have a more lasting effect. Of course, such nose drops should be used only as the physician directs. They are best employed before meals and at bedtime, and they should not be employed more often than every four hours.

During the winter months when the air of the room may be exceedingly dry the breathing in of steam may be found helpful. There is a drug known as aminophylline which also seems quite valuable in relieving the asthmatic symptoms. This aminophylline may be given in the form of a suppository which is put into the lower bowel. Now and then aminophylline may cause sickness to the stomach and vomiting, and in such cases, its use should be discontinued. If these measures do not relieve the attack an injection of epinephrine may be given under the skin. The parent sometimes can learn to do this. The use of the epinephrine should not be delayed too long since, when given early it often completely stops the attack.

Unfortunately there is no definite cure for asthma known but with the measures outlined many patients can be relieved of their symptoms.

Rubber Companies To Pay Tribute to Ford

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., April 10—Rubber manufacturing plants here and throughout the world will halt momentarily at 2:30 p. m. today to pay the respects of the industry to the memory of Henry Ford, whose burial takes place at that time.

B. F. Goodrich Co. operations here and abroad will cease for a moment as some 50,000 workers pay tribute.

The flags of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. will be at half-staff and two minutes of silence will be observed in the Firestone empire as some 70,000 employes pause.

The tribute of momentary silence will be paid by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. factories and offices.

SISSON HATCHERY SOLD TO FRED DUTT

New Owner To Get Possession July 1.

The Roy G. Sisson hatchery on North Main street, together with approximately four acres of adjoining land, has been purchased by the Dutt Implement store and the Marion Steel Building Co. of 416 North Main street.

Announcement of the purchase was made today by Fred F. Dutt, owner of the Dutt Implement store and president of the Marion Steel Building Co. Mr. Sisson stated he would keep possession of the hatchery and continue its operation until July 1. Also included in the purchase is a residence adjoining the hatchery. The approximately four acres of land lie to the south of the buildings.

Mr. Dutt said a quonset and concrete block single story building, approximately 84 by 140 feet in dimensions, would be erected on the site. The building will be used as a sales and storage room for both the Dutt Implement store and the Marion Steel Building Co. Work on the structure will start in the near future, he said. The residence and the hatchery building on the site are expected to be sold.

Local Government Financing Program Takes Solid Form

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 10—Ohio's local government financing program began to take solid form today with five measures recommended for passage by the house taxation committee.

The proposals, designed to smooth administration of funds by counties and their subdivisions, were part of a house program to increase subsidies to local governments from $21,000,000 to $28,500,000 annually.

In addition to this program, a plan to permit municipalities to tax consumers' utility bills also was to be considered.

The program envisions allocation of $12,000,000 a year from sales taxes with the balance derived by tapping tax sources now reserved to the state.

Among the five bills approved was one to give local governments the state's half of cigaret dealers' license fees approximating $500,000 yearly.

Other Proposals Listed

(1) Removal of requirements that county budget commissions fix taxrates of subdivisions at not less than two-thirds of the five-year average prior to the 1933 adoption of the ten-mill limitation:

(2) Elimination of the requirement that districts must exhaust their 10-mill tax limitation to be eligible for additional school aid:

(3) Require county auditors to make appraisals at least every six years:

(4) Change from the second Monday in September to the first Monday in August the date for the state board of tax appeals to equalize property assessments to aid budget commissions in determining tax rates for the following year.

Proponents of the senate approved Daniels-Cramer school bill urged the house education committee not to reduce its $88,000,000-a-year appropriation because the money was needed for salary increases to prevent teachers from leaving the profession.

Committee Member William L. Manahan (R-Defiance) said he had an observation for Parent-Teachers association members as a result of personal interviews with 54 high school teachers who quit to take jobs in industry.

Several Witnesses Testify

Witnesses included W. E. Weigley, Erie county school superintendent; V. F. Schubert of the Sandusky board of education, and Wesley P. Ridenour, clerk of the Portsmouth board.

The house finance committee concluded open hearings on the $432,000,000 biannial budget bill and members indicated they would start attempts to trim it.

The senate military affairs committee heard testimony that 781,386 Ohioans would be eligible for veterans' bonuses at the rate of $10 monthly for service between Pearl Harbor and V-J day.

The cost was estimated at $270,000,000, including interest on bonds issued to finance the bonus. Previous estimates ran as high as $400,000,000.

The senate judiciary committee, considering a bill to increase the state civil service commission from two to three members, heard commission chairman Carl Smith, a Democrat, and member Gertrude Jones, a Republican testify that lack of adequate appropriations had hamstrung their work.

Leadership Severely Tested

The house of representatives afforded the Republican majority leadership a severe test yesterday in passing, 70 to 52, a bill by Rep. John H. Kowalk (R-Sandusky) relaxing the hours of employment for women and minors.

The measure would permit women to work nine hours a day, with a weekly limit of 45 hours in manufacturing and 48 hours in mercantile establishments.

Women also would be allowed to work as taxicab drivers, meter readers and ticket sellers between 6 a. m. and 10 p. m. and to be employed on delivery service wagons and freight elevators. Girls of 16 could work in stores two nights a week until 9:30 o'clock.

The senate approved a measure to help cities alleviate motor vehicle parking problems by condemning land for lease to private operators of parking lots.

Unanimously approved was a bill appropriating nearly $4,000,000 to state universities and certain welfare institutions for improvements. An emergency clause makes the measure effective immediately upon signing by the governor. The allotments:

Bowling Green $27,660; Kent $300; Miami $90,000; Ohio U. $23,000; Wilberforce $145,230; Ohio State $188,590; the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Home at Sandusky, $36,000; Mansfield Reformatory, $245,500; the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster $94,000, and state hospitals at Athens $244,000; Massillon $218,000 and Mt. Vernon $653,000.

Introduced in the senate was a measure by Sen. Jonathan C. Mason (R-Columbiana) to create a nine-member commission to study feasibility of constructing superhighways in Ohio to be paid for by tolls.

Frayed Collars Go Out of Fashion As Shirt Crisis Eases

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 9 — The men's shirt crisis rapidly is coming to an end.

"There is a pretty good assortment of shirts today—no inventory to speak of—but if you want a shirt you can get it if you will pay the price," said M. J. Lovell, secretary-counsel of the National Association of Shirt and Pajama Manufacturers.

Although men are showing some resistance to prices, Lovell said manufacturers' biggest problem today is to figure out how they can keep from raising prices in the fall.

The difficulty lies in rising fabric costs.

"There will be a downward price adjustment when stores begin to fill up and demand goes off," he added. But Lovell doesn't expect that to come about at the retail level until after the end of this year.

Some retailers have other views. One of the largest, who said his stock today ranges in price from $3.98 to $10, predicted that "In a couple of weeks or a month or so, prices should be down about a dollar a shirt."

Rerouting of Two Roads Proposed in Delaware

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, April 9 — City council is considering proposals to relocate state route 23 and 42 through the city and create a memorial park on the site of the Cruikshank dump on South Henry street.

The plan, presented to council Monday night by Dr. G. T. Blydenburgh, Ohio Wesleyan university physician, calls for renaming of route 42 as Hough boulevard in memory of the late Col. Benson W. Hough, commander of the 166th Infantry Division in World War I.

Under Dr. Blydenburgh's plan route 42 would enter Delaware on South street, Bell street or English terrace, cross Sandusky street and continue over the river at a point near the N.Y.C. railroad bridge, hit Lake street and continue to the corporation line. Route 23 would be taken off Sandusky street and follow the west bank of the Olentangy river through the city.

MANSFIELD BOYS LIKE CAPITAL; PREFER HOME

Washington Good City—To Visit—Touring Ohioans Agree.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10 — A group of Mansfield, O., high school boys are glad they came to Washington but they'll be just as happy to get home.

As one of them put it: "the capital is a great place—to visit. I'd rather live somewhere else."

Members of the Mansfield Hi-Y club, the youngsters arrived Monday night in six automobiles in charge of Robert Y. Davis, Herman D. Bishop, Brooks Huber, Harold Ramsey, J. C. Stout, high school instructors, and Don Cram, program secretary of the Mansfield Y.M.C.A.

Many of the 24 boys said Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington, impressed them most on the first day of their tour yesterday. The Lincoln memorial was next.

After an exciting day of sightseeing, the boys were ready to visit the capitol, the White House and the supreme court today.

Rep. McGregor (R-Ohio) gave them cards for admission to the senate and house galleries and the White House. Time also was reserved for a visit to the FBI.

The boys raised money for the trip by providing entertainment for other students. One of the boys figured that the trip cost about $30 a piece.

The group will leave for home today.

HONOR 26 MEMBERS AT GRANGE MEETING

Montgomery Holds Reception at DeCliff Hall.

A reception for the 26 new members initiated in countywide ceremonies recently was held by Montgomery grange Tuesday night at DeCliff. The third and fourth degrees were conferred on three candidates by Cletus Uhl, master, presiding.

Clarence Trumbo of Bowling Green college was a guest and gave an informal talk on the coming degree meeting to be held tonight for the initiation of candidates in the fifth degree. It was announced that a well would be drilled on the grange property in the next few weeks. Funds for the new well were provided through contributions by the members.

Mrs. Alonzo Granger, lecturer, was in charge of the program which opened with a song of welcome for the new members, by six members of the juvenile grange, Jane Granger, Shirley Granger, Alice Uhl, Rosemary Uhl, Mary Jane Coon and Anita Coon. A tableau in keeping with the Easter season, "The Old Rugged Cross," was presented by Larry Uhl and a quartet composed of Lowell Frost, M. C. Kenendy, Alonzo Granger and Richard Kennedy.

The "Easter Parade" was presented in "period" costumes by Marie Wilson, Mrs. Bernard Coon, Mrs. Pearl Wilson, Mrs. Clifton Wennig, Mrs. Lowell Wood, Mrs. Calvin Oborn, Mrs. Cletus Uhl and Mrs. Ernest Fogle.

Refreshments were served following the program. In charge of the next meeting will be Betty Uhl, Ruth Granger, Ray Weston, Alma Roush, Katherine Seiter and Robert Hinamon.

ACTOR'S MOTHER DIES

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 10 — Mrs. Sarah Goldenberg, 85, mother of screen actor Edward G. Robinson, died last night.

Miami University To Honor Herbert, Others

By The Associated Press

OXFORD, O., April 10—The governor of Ohio, the president of Ohio State university and a professor of Northwestern university will receive honorary degrees of doctors of law from Miami university April 19.

The degrees will be granted to Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, O.S.U.'s Dr. Howard L. Bevis and to Dr. F. S Deibler, professor-emeritus of economics at Northwestern and a former president of the American Association of University Professors at the inauguration of Dr. Ernest H. Hahne as 15th president of Miami university.

The inauguration of Dr. Hahne, who came to Oxford April 1, 1946, was delayed because Withrow court was being used as a temporary dormitory for 400 men. Temporary housing since has been erected

Western Reserve Drives For School of Pharmacy

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 10—Western Reserve university took another step today in expansion plans its medical center with the announcement of a campaign for $528,850 for building and equipping a new school of pharmacy.

Chairman George Miller of the Western Reserve pharmacy foundation said a recent survey showed a national need for 7,000 more pharmacists in U. S. drug stores.

Tentative plans call for a three-story building.

Study New Site For Kenton City Dump

Special to The Star

KENTON, April 10—The Kenton city council has appointed three of its members to investigate three sites outside the city to be used as a city dump. The need for a new site arose when an investigation proved that the present site within the city was unhealthful and a nuisance to residents near its confines.

New Scientific Discovery Kills Hundreds of Home Odors!

Now You Can

NIL that Odor!

Trade Mark

DEODORIZE MUSTY BASEMENTS, SEWER TRAPS
TAKES "B O." OUT OF COATS FAST
KILLS TOILET BOWL ODORS INSTANTLY
TAKE SMOKE, OTHER ODORS, OUT OF UPHOLSTERY
EASY TO DEODORIZE USED DIAPERS
DESTROYS PET ODORS QUICKLY, EASILY
ENDS GARBAGE ODOR WITH DAILY SPRAYING

Utterly New Kind of Odorless Deodorant Spray Completely Destroys These Embarrassing Household and Pet Odors—Quickly, Safely, Easily!

TAKES "B O." OUT OF COATS . . . Just spray lightly in underarm area of coat. NIL can keep garment fresh and dainty weeks longer—and may pay for itself many times over in reduced cleaning bills

MUSTY CLOTHES CLOSETS lose their odors within a few seconds after spraying with NIL Use a light NIL mist on walls and clothes in closets.

FRESHEN MUSTY BASEMENTS. Just spray on walls, floors, or directly on areas where odors originate.

MILDEW ODORS EASY TO KILL NOW! Simply spray mildewed cloth, paper, or other material and spray area where it has been. Mildew odor will no longer "linger on".

AN ODOR-FREE NURSERY is a blessing to mothers—and guests! If child vomits or breaks training, spray NIL on floor, furniture and clothes affected.

EVEN DIAPER ODORS DISAPPEAR after a NIL treatment. Just spray used diaper, after changing baby, and also diapers in can or bag.

SICKROOM PATIENTS feel better, eat better, when they are not affected by odors from bedpans, bandages, etc. Visitors appreciate it. Spray NIL on outside of offensive bandages; spray bedpans after using.

ODORS IN UPHOLSTERY caused by pets, spilled drinks, tobacco smoke, or burns, will disappear instantly when areas are sprayed lightly with clean, safe, odorless NIL

TOBACCO ODORS AND "MORNING AFTER" ODORS from alcohol, smoke, etc., disappear rapidly. Spray curtains, drapes, furniture (avoiding varnished surfaces) in room.

STOPS SINK AND SEWER ODORS FAST, with only a spoonful poured into the drain. Allow to stand a few minutes.

NO MORE SMELLY GARBAGE CAN—just spray the garbage in can daily. Also spray inside, before and after washing out can. NIL kills residual odors—keeps smell out of your home.

A CLEAN, ODORLESS TOILET BOWL is a sign of a fastidious housewife. Just spray NIL on and in bowl once a day.

WIPES OUT CLOTHES HAMPER ODORS. Just spray in hamper occasionally as dirty clothes accumulate.

TRAILER DWELLERS HAIL NIL. Quickly eliminates "musty" odors, smoke odors, cooking odors that soak into drapes, rugs, upholstery. Makes up for lack of ventilation; a quick daily spray with NIL usually keeps trailer interior as fresh as an open porch.

CAR OWNERS OVERJOYED at the way a NIL spray gets odors out of upholstery and rugs. Tobacco smoke, dog odors, smells from odorous things you carry in the car, all go like magic.

ODOR OF DEAD MOUSE OR RAT GOES FAST with a quick NIL treatment Spray animal, remove, and spray area and air.

KILLS EVEN SKUNK ODORS! Soak affected garments in NIL, and wash NIL on skin and hair until odor disappears.

HUNTING-JACKETS, FISHING CLOTHES need NIL—get blood, feather, fish and similar odors out of game-pockets and off your fishing pants and jackets.

A TRULY ODORLESS REST-ROOM in public places, stores, service stations, etc., is not only a blessing to patrons—it's a good-will money-maker for you. Where many products simply "mask" one odor with another, NIL completely destroys rest-room odors without leaving an odor of its own. Spray NIL on and in toilet bowl, on floor, in drains.

HUNDREDS OF COMMERCIAL USES FOR NIL—wherever odors of any kind create a bad effect on either workers or patrons. For plant, home or office, no other product can equal NIL's fast, simple action in destroying malodor-causing odors! Write Drug Dept., Skinner Mfg. Co., Omaha, Nebraska.

NOW MANY WHO LOVE DOGS, even in small apartments, can love them more! Many who would like to own a dog can now feel the odor-barrier to their enjoyment has been removed.

Keep a Bottle in the Kitchen—Keep a Bottle in the Bathroom—Available at Leading Grocery, Drug, and Department Stores and Pet Shops Everywhere

NIL that Odor!

Pat. Pending U.S. Pat. Off.

Why Today NIL is the Really TRUE [illegible]

1. It quickly destroys (oxidizes) all [illegible] odors. NIL is powered—no other [illegible]
2. It does not merely "mask" an odor [illegible]
3. It is completely odorless—has no [illegible]

Easter Observed In Churches at Sycamore

Special to The Star

SYCAMORE—Easter was celebrated in all the Sycamore churches. Sunrise services were held at the Reformed church with the Methodist participating, and at the Evangelical - United Brethren church.

At the Reformed church Miss Betty Ball opened the service with a piano prelude. The Easter story was read by the pastor, Rev. C. F. Brose and a quartet composed of Billy Lee, Ted Ingersoll, Jack Stookey and Jack Hufford from the Methodist church sang. Solos were sung by Betsy Caves and Dixie Van Buren and Russell Searvey played a trombone solo. The E and E young peoples' choir presented an anthem and a group of women from the Methodist church sang. A quartet including Wilma Case, Viola and Russell Searvey and William Niebel also sang.

At the morning service at 11 three converts infants and children were baptized, and new members were received.

The sunrise service at the United Brethren church was presented by the young people. On Easter night the pastor, Rev. T. E. Wesencoom, showed Biblical pictures.

Iberia Church Program

IBERIA—Dr. Irwin T. Moon of the Moody Bible institute is the producer of the sound-color film, "The God of Creation," to be shown at 8:15 p. m. April 15 at Iberia Federated church by A. D. Telder, Moody film representative, according to Art Crider, chairman for the event activities. The program is sponsored by the Iberia Federated Methodist churches.

Army Day Program Presented in Kenton

KENTON, April 10—Army Day was observed in Kenton Monday evening when a program arranged by Capt. Perle Shields of the Ohio State Guard and Cpl. William Beltz of the Findlay recruiting station, was presented.

Col. L. B. Brown of Kenton was the speaker and presented several awards. Kenton newspapers were given awards for their aid in the Army's recruiting program. Sgt. Jack Moore of the Ohio State Guard was awarded the American Legion marksmanship trophy for 1946. Following the awards a military demonstration was put on by Co. I of the State Guard.

County League Schools Plan Extensive Spring Sports Activities

Program To Begin with Track At Prospect This Afternoon

By GEORGE ROEST

Most Marion county schools are planning spring activities in either track or baseball.

The track season is scheduled to open this afternoon with a quadrangular meet at Prospect. Prospect, Caledonia, Waldo and Marseilles will participate.

The Prospect field will continue to be the scene of action in a meet scheduled there April 14 with New Bloomington, Waldo and Grand Prairie.

April 15, Prospect, Richwood, Pleasant and probably Marseilles will be active in a meet at Prospect.

Martel, Caledonia and Waldo will hold a meet at Prospect April 17 and a junior high meet is scheduled between Prospect, New Bloomington, Pleasant and Caledonia. Twelve events are planned.

May 1, Prospect, Morral, Kirkpatrick and Caledonia have a meet scheduled and May 6 will be the day of preliminaries in the county track meet The meet is scheduled for May 7

Girls' Meet Scheduled

A girls' track meet is also scheduled in the county. It will be held April 30 at a place yet to be decided.

Events planned are 60-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 150-yard dash, 240-yard relay, 440-yard relay, broad jump, discus throw, shot put and high jump.

Waldo Coach Frank Furniss says he will enter a member of his track team in the Mansfield relays April 19. The performer is Dick Loyer, a Navy vet, who was one of the county's high point men in track two seasons ago. He is a broad jumper, pole vaulter and runs the low hurdles The Mansfield relays are one of the biggest high school track events in this and surrounding states.

Entered In Wesleyan Relays

In addition to the track meets at Prospect, the Waldo team is entered in the Wesleyan relays at Delaware April 26 and in the district meet scheduled May 17, also at Delaware. Any boys placing first or second in an event in the district go to the state finals at Columbus.

Prospect Coach Chester Hurd expects his team to be strongest in the mile, half mile, 440 and high jump. Joe Wolfe has performed well in the mile and half mile, George Landon is a returned 440 man, and a new student, Marril Knoop, was an outstanding high jumper at Mt. Healthy, O.

Coach Norman Roettger at Green Camp announces the school will have a track team this season but no meets have been scheduled as yet Track was revived at Green Camp last year as a junior high sport and he is attempting to build interest. The school plans to enter as many events in the county track meet as talent will permit. Their first practice was held this week.

Track, Baseball at Morral

The sport menu at Morral this year will include both track and baseball, Coach Norman Weston announced. Besides the events at Prospect, the team will hold a triangular meet with Pleasant and Martel at Pleasant, April 22.

Weston also plans to take some boys to the Wesleyan relays. A pair of performers who will be counted on to net points for the team are Jim Conley, an apt discus thrower and Don Sexton, who is reported to be capable of doing over five feet in the high jump

No baseball games have been scheduled yet although one is tantative with Caledonia.

Kirkpatrick also plans track and baseball provided conditions are right, according to Coach D. M. Lust. The team started working out last Saturday and is entered in Prospect meets. Some of the boys back on the team who did well last season are Don Hildreth, in the 100-yard dash, Richard Thomas, in the half mile, and Ray Knapp, discus and shot put. Hildreth also may run the 440.

Has Injured Ankle

The picture is clouded, however, because Thomas has been having trouble with an injured ankle and Knapp has to work some of the times when meets are planned.

The baseball team has not practiced much yet but Coach Lust hopes to play a few games this spring. Kirk had a baseball team last fall in the four-team county league and will be playing independent ball this spring.

No high school track this spring is the report from Coach John Pearson at Claridon. Baseball junior high track and spring football practice are planned.

Baseball games are pending with Galion, Caledonia, Harding, Delaware and several teams in Delaware county. The Claridon-Caledonia game will be for the right to play Pleasant for the county championship

Seven Lettermen Back

Sixteen boys, seven of them lettermen, reported at the first practice this week.

Claridon is active in six-man football in the fall and in order to build interest Coach Pearson has planned to hold workouts the last week of this month and the first three weeks of May.

Through a junior high track team he hopes to build speed for future high school basketball teams No track meet is scheduled yet

Several of the other county schools including New Bloomington, Pleasant and Martel have spring sports planned.

Coach Don Burton of LaRue said because of the difficulties confronting that school in finding a place to practice he did not believe a program would be followed there this spring

Caledonia Sets Program

Caledonia announced last week they would have both baseball and track this spring. The school has won the county six-man football crown and cage championship this school year and should be strong in both spring sports

Eight lettermen are returning to the fold in baseball and about 10 experienced track men reported this season Practices have been under way several weeks.

RED BIRDS TO BE HUSTLING BALL CLUB

New Manager Anderson To Try Hand with Cellar Outfit.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, April 10—The Columbus Red Birds, eighth the last years in the American association, will be a hustling ball club this season.

And they'll have to be if they intend to escape another year's confinement at the bottom.

Hal Anderson, slight outfielder with the Birds in the 30's, has returned to baseball after a year's layoff, to manage the team. He's provided particularly adept this spring training season in bringing along promising youngsters who listen to him as if he was their grandfather.

But Anderson hasn't any too much to work with. Brightest additions to the roster are Bill Conroy and Bill Baker, both catchers.

The pitching will be definitely better than last year. Les Studener up from the Houston Buffs, probably will be the No. 1 choice, backed up by Charley Stanceau, the sore-armed ex-Yankee who has been doing right well in the exhibition series.

Ira Hutchinson, mound coach and relief pitcher, is counted upon heavily Jack Griffore is showing good control for this time of year, and Eddie Blake, up from Columbus, Ga, is the brightest of the "unknowns." Strictly from the Ladies' Day standpoint, Wes Johnson is expected to knock 'em dead —he's tagged as another Van Johnson.

GRAND CIRCUIT READY

INGLEWOOD, Calif, April 10—Grand circuit harness racing, which exceeded all expectations in its inaugural meeting in southern California a year ago, comes back for another spin at Hollywood park tomorrow, with the nation's top trotters, pacers and drivers on hand for the 27-day run.

Feller To Make Final Exhibition Start Today

By The Associated Press

DANVILLE, Va, April 10—Bob Feller makes his final exhibition appearance today as the Cleveland Indians and the New York Giants continue their trek northward.

The Tribe's fireballer's next assignment will be the American league opener against the Chicago Tuesday.

White Sox in Cleveland Stadium

The Indians dropped behind in their series with the Giants yesterday, losing a 7 to 4 decision at Hickory, N. C The Giants now lead seven games to six.

Benson Ford (right), director of the Ford Motor Co, holds a match to Babe Ruth's cigar at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York where announcement was made that the one-time "Sultan of Swat" has signed a contract at "a big figure" to serve as consultant in the company's 1947 participation in the nationwide American Legion junior baseball program.

Burbrink and Assistant Send Marion Cubs Through Paces

Manager Nelson Burbrink, assisted by Dick Spalding, Chicago Cub scout and veteran of many years of baseball in the minors and majors, sent the local ball team through its second spring practice session at Lincoln park yesterday.

Spalding arrived in Marion Tuesday night and will help Burbrink whip the locals into shape and get things squared away before the season opens.

He has been with the Chicago Cubs for seven years, three as a coach and four as a scout Before going to the Windy City Nationals he saw outfield duty with the Phillies and the Washington Senators He also played in the International league.

Lets Burbrink Carry Ball

Commenting on the local setup, he said Burbrink is the manager and he is merely here in the capacity of an assistant. He said the Cubs owned or were affiliated with about 21 minor league clubs. He did not know how this compared with the number of farm teams other major league clubs have but said he thought it was one of the five largest systems

Yesterdays practice followed the line of the first day as the players were made to do a lot of running but Manager Burbrink also had his pitching staff warming up and held a lively infield practice in the afternoon.

Batting Practice Soon

He said he wants to get his pitchers in shape to throw for batting practice today or tomorrow. Candidates for infield positions traded off with one another at the various slots in fielding grounders and whipping the ball around the bases

Neither Burbrink or Spalding encouraged any of the candidates to turn on in pegging the ball around and at several points they told a player to take it easy and save his arm for later

Outfielders held pepper ball sessions while the infielders were working on the base paths The pitching staff was retired earlier than the others after workouts.

Ray Schick Named Newark Grid Coach

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O, April 10—Ray Schick, who came to Newark three years ago from Middletown, yesterday was named head football coach of Newark High school.

Schick succeeds Luther Hanshue, who recently resigned to take a similar spot with Louisville, Ky. Male high school

COUNTRY CLUB PRO HAS VARIED CAREER

Saw Wartime Service with Two Countries.

Service in two wars under two flags, and on the golf links of two countries, has highlighted the career of William Alves, the new pro at the Marion Country club

Alves will conduct the second and last session of the Y.M.C.A.'s golf clinic starting at 8 tonight. He will instruct in the use of woods.

Alves started his golfing career as a caddy at the Royal Aberdeen Golf club in Aberdeen, Scotland. In 1913 he started work as an apprentice golf club maker with the same club.

Three years later he entered service with the British Expeditionary Forces in Europe, being released in 1919.

After the First World War he came to America and joined his brother Grange Alves as assistant club pro at Shaker Heights Country club in Cleveland.

In the fall of 1921, he supervised the construction of Madison Golf Lakeland's 27-hole course and remained there as a pro for about eight years.

He was also connected with the same company at Cleveland Heights Country club and Lakeland, Fla

In 1930 and 1931 he was with the Ridgewood Willowick Co operators of semi-public golf courses From 1932 to 1941 he acted as pro and groundskeeper for the Trumbell Country club in Warren, O

In 1942 he entered the U S Navy and served until discharged in 1945

Before coming to Marion this year, he was employed by the Industrial Rayon Corporation in Painesville, O.

No Cuts in Harding Squad Out For Track, Simpson Announces

Ralph Simpson, head track coach at Harding, does not plan to cut any boys from his squad

In announcing that he would allow all boys who report to the team to stay out throughout the season he said that as long as a boy worked hard and behaved himself he would be kept on the squad

He will of necessity have to choose about 20 players to represent the school every time a track meet comes up, but regardless of whether the boy out is wanted for use in a meet or not he will be encouraged to stay out.

Started Practice Tuesday

Harding spring sports started Tuesday of this week and about 60 boys showed up for track and about 40 for baseball.

The first baseball game will be with Pleasant next Monday at the Harding playing field and the initial track meet will be at Ashland a week from Wednesday

"Martin Levi, The Human Blimp Here Tonight"
One of Marion's top attractions will take place tonight in a battle royal at the Marion Armory. He is Martin Levi, world's heaviest wrestler, weight 640 lbs Levi has been touring the country for the past eight years wrestling in about every large city and Marion fans are lucky to get him here. Four men will be used in his battle royal instead of the usual five, which will enable the fans to see one of the three men wrestle him. The three men who will enter the ring with the Blimp are Renee L. Bell, clever Canadian, Rufus Jones, the rough colored boy from New York and a newcomer to Marion, Bull Montana of Salt Lake City. The first two to lose in the battle royal return in a 45-minute match and the last two left in the ring wrestle the two hour main go. A ten minute prelim will start the show at 8:30. More seats are being installed for the comfort of the fans. There is no advance in prices. Call 2745 after six for the best ringside seats.—Adv.

"Had It Coming," Writers Say of Durocher Ouster

Chandler Flexing Muscles Is Belief of Many Commentators

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 10—While most baseball observers throughout the country took the view today that the one-year suspension Commissioner A. B. Chandler imposed on Brooklyn Manager Leo Durocher was excessive, many felt the ebullient pilot had some kind of penalty coming to him for his actions on and off the field.

While the commissioner's action came unexpectedly, the stunned Durocher who could only exclaim "What for? What for?" must have seen the handwriting on the wall. He had been warned by Chandler months ago as last November, when the commissioner called Leo on the carpet.

Club owners and managers generally refused to comment. Most of them expressed a desire to read Chandler's formal opinion.

Former President Larry MacPhail had "absolutely nothing to say" now, in the next breath summoned a press conference for 11 a. m. today.

"Tough Break"—Chapman

One of the few managers who commented was Ben Chapman of the Philadelphia Phillies. He termed the suspension a "tough break" for the Dodgers but added that Durocher had "stuck his neck out." The general reaction among the Phillies was that the suspension "served Durocher right."

Dan Parker, New York Mirror columnist who has been one of the most severe critics of the Chandler regime, said "It's my belief that Happy is simply using Durocher as a punching bag to prove that he is a strong man. Durocher must have merited a year's suspension for some of the things he and that brought discredit on baseball during the last winter and previous thereto. But to suspend him for one year just because he was pushed into the middle of a fight between two club owners proves to me that Chandler's sense of justice isn't ve. keen."

Commented J. Roy Stockton, sports editor of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch: "Ever since Chandler took office his conduct of the high baseball office has been criticized.... Most of the critics emphasized the fact that Chandler hadn't done anything except issue vacuous statements and sing 'My Old Kentucky Home.' It is not difficult to conclude that Chandler was enraged by the criticism and has made Durocher his handy whipping boy."

"Fans Will Applaud"

Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, said: "Chandler's suspension of Leo Durocher will outrage the hoodlum element, but fans who have the long-range interest of baseball at heart will applaud.... His (Durocher's) conduct has been detrimental to the sport, decent fans will rejoice that baseball still is far bigger than any of its individual representatives...."

Said Harold Kaese in the Boston Daily Globe: "In suspending Durocher, Happy Chandler looks something like the little boy who rolls up his sleeves, flexed his biceps while scowling fiercely, and says 'See, I have so got a muscle.'... Chandler's sentencing of Durocher looks like a public demonstration.... I feel little sympathy for Dunocher but I resent the ambiguity of the 'detrimental to baseball' charge....

Earl Ruby, sports editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, said "Happy wasn't fooling when he said he could get tough. The full season suspension of Brooklyn's Lippy Leo Durocher will take a place with the severest jolts ever administered in pro baseball—by Commissioner Chandler or the stern Judge Landis."

"Should Have Been Life"

Jimmy Powers, columnist of the New York Daily News: "We don't think Durocher is a credit to baseball. We believe Landis, in view of what he did to other players for less heinous offenses, would have barred him for life—long ago.... Millions of Brooklynites have never set foot in Ebbets field. They won't miss Durocher. We don't think the team will miss him either."

Jack Clarke in the Chicago Sun: "Outside Brooklyn, and not even there could he gain a unanimous vote of confidence, there will be little lamentation over the cruel fate which has finally overtaken Lippy Leo Durocher."

Vince Johnson, baseball writer of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette: "If Chandler means to make the Durocher ban stick ... it probably means Leo is through with baseball. You can't take a rap like that and still be at it... The incident, which baseball will regret for years to come, proves just one thing: baseball is a big game, bigger than any man in it, even Durocher."

Dave Egan, Boston Daily Record: "...Nobody can deny that Durocher has been a horrible example for millions of children who, quite wrongly in most cases, make idols of ballplayers.... A Judge Landis, long since, would have hit him with the book and for very excellent reasons. He (Durocher) now is being hit with the book, however, because (a) Happy Chandler, the comical commissioner of baseball, is the alter ego and office boy of (Larry) MacPhail, who appointed him.... He was suspended because he offended MacPhail, the king of the beasts in baseball's jungle."

Art Daley, columnist of the New York Times, finds the penalty

DUROCHER GLUM, RICKEY QUIZZICAL. Their faces registering their sentiments, Leo Durocher (left), Brooklyn Dodger manager, and his boss, Branch Rickey, head of the Brooklyn team, consider the news from Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler's Cincinnati offices ordering Durocher suspended for one year because of conduct detrimental to the game of baseball. The two meet in the Dodgers' Brooklyn headquarters.

Rickey Faces Two Major Decisions In Durocher Muddle

By The Associated Press

BROOKLYN, April 10—Now that some of the shock of Leo Durocher's banishment from baseball for the 1947 season by Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler has worn off, President Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers was faced today with two problems.

First, Rickey must name a manager to succeed the exiled Durocher for the impending season which gets under way just five days from now.

Second, the Dodgers' Mahatma must make up his mind whether to retain or discharge Leo when the suspension is lifted at the end of the playing season, Sept. 28.

The first problem is probably the least difficult for him to solve. Although Rickey said he was not yet ready to name a pilot to succeed Durocher, it was generally believed the assignment would go to either Coach Ray Blades or Scout John (Pepper) Martin.

Durocher's suspension does not become effective until April 15. It ends Sept. 28, the day the regular championship season ends, except that if Brooklyn wins the pennant the suspension also holds good for the World Series.

Durocher, virtually tongue-tied throughout the entire press conference yesterday, was still stunned over the startling outcome of the charges filed by President Larry MacPhail of the New York Yankees against him and Rickey for defamation of character.

To all questions put to him, Leo answered dispiritedly, "I have nothing to say. I don't know what I'll do."

The official reason given by Chandler for Durocher's suspension was "because he has not measured up to the standards expected or required of manager of our baseball teams."

Marion Paratrooper Qualifies as Jumper

WITH THE EIGHTH ARMY IN JAPAN—Cpl. Walter E. Hane, 19-year-old paratrooper from Marion, recently won his wings at the 11th Airborne Division Jump School in Japan. Cpl. Hane is working as advertising agent for special service activities in and around Sappore, Hokkaido, Japan. He will soon leave Japan for the states to receive his discharge.

He qualified as a jumper when he made five jumps from a troop carrier flying at an altitude of 1,200 feet during his second week at the school. He is now eligible to wear his wings, jump boots and to draw an additional $50 a month jump pay.

Entering the service at Fort Hayes, O., in April 1946, he proceeded to Fort Knox, Ky., for his basic training. After completing this he remained at the camp as a tank driving instructor for two months. He then was sent overseas, where he volunteered for airborne duty.

Before he entered the Army, Hane had completed one year of aeronautical engineering study at Purdue university. Upon his discharge he plans to return to Purdue to continue his education. His mother, Mrs. Walter E. Hane, resides at 419 East Church street in Marion.

BOWLING RESULTS

Of the four over 600 series rolled at the Palace alleys Friday night, two were made by Oberlander. In the Industrial league he finished with 619 which included a 238 score, and in the Commercial he made a 609 finish, which included a 234 single game.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

And That Ain't Hay —Or Is It?

I guess all of us secretly hanker, from time to time, for the good old days and the good old-fashioned pleasures. Lonestways, Buddy Richards done a thriving business reviving the old-time hayride.

With a team of horses, and a load straw-bedded rack, Buddy can take as many as thirty adults at fifty cents a head!

Two or three times a week they start from Town Hall, and go out along the river; stop for a friendly glass of beer at Shoreside Tavern; and come home by way of Pound Ridge ... nine miles in all.

Not very exciting, you might say. But from where I sit it's not excitement that we need these days—but those simple country pleasures that are part and parcel of America—the old-fashioned hayride, with its song and jollity; the horseshoe games; the friendly glass of beer; and the good companionship that they engender.

FURTHER RECOVERY MARKED BY STOCKS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 10—Assorted stocks made a little further recovery headway today although many market leaders continued to falter.

Dealings slowed appreciably after the opening, irregularly higher quotations ruled near midday.

Hopes for settlement of the telephone strike and the return of more coal miners to work inspired a certain amount of bidding. The labor situation, notably in the steel industry, remained as an argument for light selling. The grant of a fare boost to the New Haven road by the I.C.C. aided the rails.

Modest advances were posted for Baltimore and Ohio, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Bethlehem, Republican Steel, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, American Tobacco "B", American Telephone, Chrysler, Anaconda, Standard Oil (NJ) and Westinghouse. Backward at intervals were American Smelting, Pennsylvania Railroad, Standard Oil of Ind., American Woolen, Woolworth and Sears Roebuck.

Twenty persons were reported killed at Shatzuck, Okla. Information there was fragmentary.

The Red Cross said 6 were killed at Glazier, Tex., a village of 200. Forty injured persons were treated at Canadian. Only one building was left standing there. Townsmen organized a vigilante committee who stopped incoming cars, turning away curiosity seekers.

Derails Santa Fe Train

Eyewitness accounts today said the tornado first hit White Deer, Tex., about 5:45 p. m., lifted a house from its foundations, wrecked a garage and derailed 21 cars of a moving Santa Fe freight train. The storm was sighted at Pampa and Miami, Tex., as it moved northeastward along the line of the Santa Fe railroad. It skirted Canadian and then struck Glazier with full fury.

Coburn, a railroad switching station, was reported razed. The tornado struck Higgins, moved into Oklahoma, and smashed into Woodward and Gage.

John Bittle, 40, of Mounds, Okla., visiting at White Deer, said the house in which he was staying began to "quake and crawl."

"Everything started to fall on us and the floor moved up. My wife fell across me and I fell to the floor. The buffet had her pinned over me."

A large circular mirror in a dresser was unbroken. The remainder of the house was a mass of rubble, with debris and broken furniture in every room. Damage was estimated by the home's owner at $20,000.

Observers said residents of the three towns hardest hit wandered about the ruins in a daze.

Telephone Workers Back On Job in Tornado Area

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10—The Southwestern Telephone Workers union offered today to send striking operators and repair crews back to their jobs in the Oklahoma-Texas tornado area to handle emergency 'phone calls and repair work.

D. L. McCowen of St. Louis, president of the union, made public the offer through headquarters of the National Federation of Telephone Workers.

Members of McCowen's union have been on strike against the southwestern Bell Telephone Co. since Monday.

NATIONAL GUARD COMPANY HOLDS DRILL AT ARMORY

Unit Plans To Take Part in Army Day Parade.

Co. C Ohio National Guard held its weekly drill meeting Wednesday night at the Armory. The meeting was the second since the company's recent inspection by Army officers from Fort Hayes.

Plans were made to participate in the Army Day parade Saturday. Equipment and uniforms will be furnished by Co. M, Ohio State Guard.

The two companies also will cooperate in entering a softball team in a league this summer.

Drill was conducted by Lt. Louis D. Snively and Lt. William M. Bogart. Subjects were organization of a rifle company, schooling a soldier, and methods of instruction.

Capt. Robert F. Melby announced a drive for 24 recruits during the next 90 days. Veterans may be enlisted in the grades in which they were discharged from the Army, he said. The company now numbers 25 enlisted men and three officers.

JR. C. OF C. AIR SHOW TO BE HELD JUNE 15

Event To Be Held at Marion County Airport.

The air show planned by the Junior Chamber of Commerce has been rescheduled for June 15. It will be staged from the Marion County Airport, east of Marion, and is expected to be one of the largest Marion has ever witnessed.

Private planes operated by the Dawn Patrol flying club will come here to take part in it.

Plans for the show were made at a meeting last night.

An extensive advertising campaign is being mapped and a beauty queen will reign at the event.

An eight member committee is in charge of making plans for the show. Charles McCally is the committee chairman.

LEGAL NOTICE

Arthur B. Curran and Dola Curran his wife who reside at Dan Blair, Wisconsin; Charles Curran and Ruth Curran, his wife, who reside at Hornell, Paul Curran who resides at 1014 West 21st Street, Sanden at Des Moines Iowa and Margaret Ko ke Curran whose place of residence is unknown and cannot be ascertained will take notice that on the 2nd day of April, 1947, the plaintiff Dorothy I. Werley as Administratrix of the estate of Anna T. Curran, deceased filed her petition against them, among others, in the Probate Court of Marion County, Ohio, the same being Cause No. 16968 in said Court for the sale of real property owned by the decedent, Anna T. Curran, which real property is bounded and described as follows: Situated in the County of Marion, State of Ohio, and in the City of Marion, to-wit:

Known as being part of lot number eight (8), (new number therefor being three hundred and thirty-five (335)) in Swan's Second Addition to the Village, now City of Marion Ohio and bounded and described as follows:

Commencing at a point in the west line of Windsor Street, in said City eighty (80) feet south of the southeast corner of lot heretofore sold and conveyed to George E. Curran, by deed dated July 3rd, 1906, recorded in Vol. 102 page 542, Deed Records of Marion County, Ohio, thence west on a line parallel with the south line of said George E. Curran's lot, to the west line of said lot number three hundred thirty-five (335); thence south along the west line of said lot number three hundred and thirty-five (335) one hundred and eighteen (118) feet, more or less, to the north line of land formerly owned by Sarah D. Wyatt, thence east along the north line of said Wyatt land to the west line of Windsor Street, thence North along the west line of Windsor Street, one hundred and eighteen (118) feet, more or less, to the place of beginning.

The prayer of said petition is for the sale of said real property to pay the debts of said decedent and the barring of all of the defendants herein, among others, from all right, title and interest in and to the aforementioned property and for other relief. Said defendants are required to answer said petition on or before the 24th day of May, 1947, or judgment will be rendered against them.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

MY nerve ends tingled with an old heady excitement as my father's words gave us the sense of something tremendous and hedged round with secrecy, confronting him and the government intelligence service in which he still played a leading role—mostly consultant, but sometimes active.

Not since the war ended had any of my father's immediate circle of family and friends—except Jack Burkett—been drawn into intelligence service problems. My father leaned heavily on "Mr. K." and "Mr. X.," the young FBI men who rendered such yeoman service during the war years, and had not called upon Dicky and me, or upon Lillian and Harry Underwood, our closest friends, for the service which we so gladly had given him in wartime.

A New Play

With one facet of my emotions, I was glad of the peace and comparative quiet which had been mine until Mary's illness, and the commission to write a new play for her, had brought me back into the theatrical world. But I knew that even the thrill attendant upon my new task did not give me the spur and uplift which my father's intelligence service problems had provided.

But a sudden fearsome thought, born to Dr. Twitchell's warning, shot up from my sub-conscious where it must have been lurking ever since he had told us how closely Mary must be watched. I knew that I must commit the "unpardonable sin" of interrupting my father when he was outlining an intelligence service problem.

"The windows!" I said explosively, and with malice aforethought. I know that I could not divert any ordinary interruption or apology.

He gave me the most forbidding frown I ever have received from him. But I saw my husband's eyes twinkling, and knew that he had recognized my ruse, and that he approved it.

"Are you ill, Margaret?" my father asked. But there was no solicitude in his voice, and I knew that he had substituted "ill" for "insane."

I rose from my chair, and faced him tensely.

"No, Father," I said, "and please believe me, I would not have interrupted you at a time like this were I not in desperate straits.

"Dr. Twitchell says Mary must be watched every hour of the twenty-four while this despondency is upon her," I went on swiftly, "for fear she will attempt to take her own life. But the windows are the greatest danger. We can keep the keys of the doors on our persons, we can banish everything sharp and substitute plastic for glass and china. We also can make sure there are no sleeping pills among her belongings. But she could reach a window—she is so quick of movement—before—"

Madge Chokes

My voice trailed off, and I choked at the fearsome picture I was limning.

"Good heavens, child!" my father adjured me. "This is awful! Of course you were right in interrupting me. Now what do you want done? This government business must wait. And it can wait for a few minutes. As I told you before, finding Dr. Twitchell here gives me some leeway. Just consider me out of the picture, unless I can help."

"I am sure you can," I told him, for I had been busy planning while he talked. Somebody must plan swiftly, I knew.

"The windows must be barred, of course—every one of them," I said. "And the work must be done while she is sleeping soundly. That means this afternoon and tonight, before she wakes up. I do not know whether she has noticed that they are not barred now," I went on, "but she certainly must not be excited by having the work done during her waking hours."

An Appealing Look

I stopped, and sent an appealing look at Dicky, who promptly came to my rescue.

"That means, of course, an appeal to Phil Ventizen," he said. "You can't ask anyone else for so drastic an innovation without explanations, which you do not wish to make."

"And I do not want to tell him what I wish over the telephone," I said. "Nor do I want to go up there, with the chance—rather the certainty—of meeting Noel and—"

"And scaring him into seven kinds of spasms," my husband supplied. "No, you'll have to get the old goat down here again on some pretense, and he's rather adamant against Mary, isn't he?"

"And his ego has been jolted by my refusal to let him go into the sick room with his son, Noel." Dr. Twitchell added, and I nodded assent as I answered Dicky.

"I think his attitude is softening," I said, "but he distinctly is not ready to come down here again, and I can't think of any excuse to bring him."

"Perhaps this is where I come in," my father said quietly.
